Wirtz, Labor Undersecretary,
Selected for Cabinet Post

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL — Years and waning health after his WASHINGTON (AP) — Aging years of outstanding yet controversial Felix Frankfurter, a legal legend, died today. He in his own lifetime has handed suffered a stroke April 5. His down a final sorrowful decision speech was impaired. He has been as a Supreme Court justice to away from the court ever since retire rather than attempt to carry on at a faltering pace.

President Kennedy immediately refused to compromise with principle. Frankfurter wrote President J. Goldberg to succeed the wily, Kennedy Tuesday of his decision waspish little man with a big mind. In keeping with his years of and a flair for piercing questions pondering the law and the law who had served on the nation's highest court for 23 years.

And the White House said a successor to Goldberg would be named promptly too.

Kennedy today named Undersecretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to succeed Goldberg as secretary of labor.

Kennedy personally announced his selection at a news conference.

The President said Wirtz, 50

Arthur Goldberg

has served with distinction as undersecretary since the beginning of his administration.

He added that he is confident Wirtz will carry on what he called the very fine tradition set by Goldberg in the field of labor management relations.

Wirtz has had long experience in the labor management field. In 1946 he was chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board.

He also has taught law at Northwestern University and at the University of Iowa.

Frankfurter's retirement and the Goldberg appointment were announced at the outset of a presidential news conference Wednesday.

It could have been no surprise that Frankfurter stepped down from the bench and little surprise that Goldberg received the presidential nod to step up.

Frankfurter at 79 gave way to the inevitable inroads of mounting

Earthquake Hits Idaho and Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — An earthquake shook parts of at least two states this morning. The tremor started at 6:36 a.m. and lasted about 30 seconds.

One resident in Odeon, Utah, about 30 miles north of here, reported that his cement porch was cracked. There were no other immediate reports of damage.

The earthquake was felt at Vernal, Utah, about 170 miles east of here and at Preston, Idaho, just north of the Utah border.

One Salt Lake City resident said she was in her bathtub at the time the quake hit. "It felt like the bathtub was twisting out from under me," said Mrs. Verla Swain.

Strike Halts North Western Service in 9 Midwest States

Pickets Out; Fox Cities Feel Strike Effect

Industry Fears
Curtailment of Work Operations

Pickets from the Order of Railroad Telegraphers brought to a halt in the Fox Cities today operations of the Chicago and North Western Railway and threatened a sizeable amount of industry with a shutdown.

In the Lake Shore Division—which includes eastern Wisconsin from Fond du Lac to Ishpeming, Mich.—25 telegraphers went on strike with an additional 2,700 railroad employees idled.

Pickets were out in Appleton at 6 a.m. Other Fox Cities also reported pickets at North Western facilities.

Negotiations in Chicago Ended Early This Morning; Mediation Efforts Continue

CHICAGO (AP)—Passenger and freight service on the Chicago North Western Railway in nine midwestern states slowly ground to a halt today as last ditch efforts to avert a strike failed.

Negotiators, seeking to halt the nation's first major railroad strike in seven years, ended their long day and night sessions about five hours before the strike deadline of 7 a.m. CDT.

The strike by 1,000 members of the AFL-CIO Order of Railroad Telegraphers climaxed a dispute of nearly five years with the North Western. The union has said some 15,000 other North Western employees, members of rail unions, would observe the telegraphers' picket lines.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg sitting in with the union and C&NW officials at the direction of President Kennedy expressed disappointment that a settlement was not reached.

A strike on a railroad, Goldberg said, is a matter of serious concern and is very much to be regretted. It is important very important that this dispute be settled promptly.

I regret very much, Goldberg added, that despite strenuous efforts on everybody's part we have been unable to resolve this dispute as of now.

At the strike deadline a spokesman for the railroad said all trains had halted. Pickets appeared at the North Western station in greenhouses and killing poultry, the carrier's general headquarters.

The chief stumbling block in the dispute is the union's demand that no telegraphers or station agents' jobs that existed Dec. 3, 1957, be discontinued except by agreement between the union and the carrier. The North Western says this would give the union an absolute veto over technological improvements and over modernization and increases in efficiency.

Goldberg keeps in touch. Francis A. O'Neill of the National Mediation Board who came from Washington with Goldberg for the negotiations planned to meet with both sides today and later to hold a full meeting.

Algiers Political Bureau Asks Drive Against Rebels

Appeals to Regular Army
And Loyal Guerrilla Troops

BY ANDREW BOROWICZ

Algiers (AP)—Deputy Prime Minister Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau called on the regular army, guerrillas and loyal guerrilla troops today to move against rebellious guerrillas who control the city made no attempt to stop the demonstrators.

Rebellious guerrilla forces hold Algiers and the Kabylie Mountains called for all-out resistance against troops reported moving to ward the capital.

The Political Bureau said it had decided to call on the loyal forces to dislodge the rebels from the city. The demonstrators many in pajamas swept past patrols and roadblocks. Many embraced tired centries who let them pass despite the 8 p.m. curfew set by guerrilla leaders of Wilaya (Zone 4). Hundreds of combat ready guerrilla troops were deployed in the darkened streets. In the steep narrow alleys of the Casbah groups of soldiers with submachine guns ready stood in nearly every doorway fraternizing with the inhabitants.

The gunfire that rattled across the city most of the afternoon and evening stopped as the demonstrators appeared.

Most of the crowd was angered by the new fighting and displayed no interest in the outcome of the power struggle between the Wilaya 4 commanders and Ben Bella. A few shouted Long live Ben Bella and The Political Bureau to power.

Police Seek Robber of Filling Station

Appleton police are seeking a man believed to be in his early 30s who robbed the Progress Oil Co. service station, 224 N. Richmond St., about 12:20 a.m. today of $115.

Edward Sturm, 34, 301 Johnson Ave., Little Chute, a station attendant, told police a man described as 5 feet 10 inches tall, blonde and wearing light green pants pushed something into his back and ordered him to open the cash register.

Sturm said he did not see a gun and the man kept his hand in his pocket. Sturm piled the bills on a table and the man scooped them into his pocket.

The man then marched Sturm to a wash room and ordered him to face the wall. The man then hit Sturm on the head and Sturm fell to the floor.

There was some movement of freight as crews which went on at midnight continued to work. Box cars were piling up on

Men Indicted for Fraud in Acreage Dealings Arrested

Former Agriculture Officials Dealt With Rice Allotments

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The U.S. marshal's office arrested today two of three men indicted by a federal grand jury investigating widespread misuse of rice acreage allotments.

Two former Department of Agriculture officials and a chemical company employee were indicted Wednesday.

The marshal's office said last night it planned to arrest David C. Stephens of Angleton, Tex., fired in June as the Brazoria County manager for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, and Laurence G. Newman of Lake Jackson, Tex.

Hospital Patient
Tacitus C. Thornhill of Waller, Tex., fired from a job similar to Stephens' in Waller County, is a patient in a Brenham (Tex.) hospital.

Neither hospital officials nor Thornhill's doctor would say why he is hospitalized. He was admitted Aug. 22.

All the charges are based on fraudulent rice acreage dealings, said U.S. Atty. Woodrow Seals.

Stephens, 46, was charged in six counts of offering $11,000 in bribes to other employees of the service, and 14 counts of receiving $20,905 in bribes.

Conspiracy
Four other counts against Stephens include conspiracy to defraud the government and making a false statement in a government report.

Thornhill, 66, faces nine counts of accepting bribes totaling $29,385 and one count of conspiracy to defraud the government.

Newman, 35, the chemical company employee, was accused of posing as a farmer willing to sell his rice allotments. He was indicted on one count of conspiring to defraud the government.

More Aid to Burma
RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Burma will receive $34 million from the U.S. Agency for International Development for agricultural machinery to open up 30,000 acres a year to rice production, the 1961 legislation designed to give Burmese government announced today.

Patrick J. Lucey of Madison, the state Democratic chairman, told Democrats recently not to cross party lines to vote for GOP candidates in the primary election.

Nelson, asked if he also opposed crossover voting, said Wednesday that "people are entitled to vote wherever they please. I am not going to tell anybody what they should or should not do."

Called a "Nitwit"
Sen. Alexander Wiley, who seeks reelection on the Republican ticket, called Nelson a "nitwit" in an interview in Milwaukee Wednesday.

Apparently irked by recent criticism by Nelson of Wiley's votes on amendments to the so-called Kefauver drug control bill, Wiley was sharp in his criticism of Nelson in an interview with a Milwaukee Sentinel reporter.

The 78-year-old senator said that Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., chairman of the Judiciary Subcommittee which prepared the drug control bill, termed it satisfactory.

"And then you get this nitwit saying what he does," Wiley said. "I don't know who writes up that bunk, but he (Nelson) does not know anything about it."

Madison's Valuation Expected to Exceed Half Billion Dollars

MADISON (AP) — Madison's assessed valuation for tax purposes is expected to exceed one-half billion dollars this year.

The Madison Capital Times, which made a survey, said the record total represents an increase of about $23 million from the assessed valuation for 1961.

The estimated total is expected to give the city an extra $1 million tax revenue.

The survey also showed Madison taxpayers will receive about $3.2 million from the state under a year to year production, the 1961 legislation designed to give property owners property tax relief.

Leading Tycoon of British Paper Industry Dies at 67

LONDON (AP) — Sir Eric Bower, 67, leading tycoon of the British paper industry, died today.

Bower had been ill for a few weeks. The cause of death was not disclosed.

News of his death immediately clipped $5 million from the shares of the giant Bower Paper Corp. in the London stock market. The shares fell 12 cents to $4.78.

$500 Million Firm
Bower became chairman in 1927 of a small family paper concern with assets of less than $500,000. Today it is a $500 million international organization employing over 28,000 persons and with its own shipping fleet.

The corporation currently is engaged in a big expansion program in Europe following rapid development in North America. It is engaged in most aspects of the paper industry from growing trees in its forests to converting them into pulp for newsprint and wrapping papers.

Expands Mills
Bower spread his empire across the Atlantic just before World War II when he purchased thousands of square miles of timber in Canada and a group of newsprint mills in Newfoundland. He expanded the mills until they Newsprint rationing, extended into the postwar period, much reduced Bower's production, but new possibilities were opened up in the making of fiber packaging materials.

After several attempts to obtain permission from the U.S. government, Bower was able in 1954 to build a large newsprint and pulp mill at Calhoun, Tenn. He operated in America through the Bower Southern Paper Corp.

(The Bower Southern Paper Corp. is a member company of the Institute of Paper Chemistry in Appleton. Sir Eric has been on the standing list of top paper officials invited each year to the institute's executive's conference, but he has never been able to attend.)

Bower acquired the newsprint mills of the Mersey Paper Company at Liverpool, Nova Scotia, in 1956 and established a pulp mill at Catawba, S.C., in 1959. He also had plants in Sweden, Norway, Belgium, France and Italy.

British Atomic Expert Attacks Space Travel

Race Between U. S., Russia Contest for Prestige, He says

BY WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
Chicago Daily News Service

LONDON — Sir John Cockcroft, master of Churchill College, Cambridge, and Britain's most eminent atomic scientist created a sensation Wednesday by a general attack on space travel.

Lumping the American effort with that of the Soviet Union, Cockcroft told delegates to the British Assn. for the Advancement of Science at Manchester: "There is no doubt that these ventures are being undertaken mainly for prestige reasons and as an instrument of power politics."

Noting that the United States was spending between $2 billion and $3 billion a year on the project to land a man on the moon, the 65-year-old scientist cited the statement of Paul Hoffman, director of the U.N. Special Fund, that a contribution of $2 billion a year to underdeveloped countries would increase the per capita income of those countries by one-quarter in a decade.

U.S. Research Program
"We must sadly conclude that world priorities have gone badly wrong," he added.

Cockcroft also pointed out that the United States was now spending an estimated $900,000,000 a year on basic research in its universities and that this figure was expected to reach $2.7 billion by 1970.

Of British doctors of philosophy in physics, he complained, 20 percent are being attracted to the United States by this research program and "this proportion is likely to increase."

Cockcroft also complained that the social sciences in Britain had suffered from the fact that "grants from American foundations on which they relied rather heavily are no longer available as they were 10 or 15 years ago."

This he said was due to an American opinion that British social research should be financed to a far larger extent from British resources.

Kings Hussein, Saud Announce Plans for Comprehensive Unity of Mid-East Nations

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Burying the decades-old feud between their dynasties, Kings Hussein of Jordan and Saud of Saudi Arabia have agreed to merge their nations' military forces, coordinate their economies and present a united front in Arab and world affairs.

Hussein and Saud announced their plans for comprehensive unity of the Western-allied Middle East nations in a joint statement issued in Amman and Mecca on Wednesday night.

They called on all other Arab states to join in their agreements, but it was obvious they did not expect President Nasser's United Arab Republic, for one, to accept the invitation. They accused Nasser of shattering Arab unity.

3-Day Meeting
The statement was released a few hours after Hussein returned to Amman from a three-day meeting with Saud at Taif, Saudi Arabia. The two monarchs agreed on "complete military unity" and "the establishment of a common command for the two armed forces immediately."

Impoverished, agricultural Jordan and oil-rich Saudi Arabia will coordinate economic policy and eliminate all restrictions on the movement of persons, goods and capital between the two countries, the monarchs said. They will settle their border problems immediately, they added.

Cooperation and coordination also were agreed upon in all cultural and administrative affairs and in the field of national guidance and information.

In agreeing to coordinate "Arab and foreign policy," the monarchs reaffirmed common enmity of Israel. They pledged to "act within a unified plan to restore to all cost sacred Arab rights in Palestine."

Long Feud
Despite their long feud, the Hashemite and Saudi kingdoms have been drawn closer together in recent years because of common dislike for Nasser, his Arab socialism and his power grabs. Cairo radio has urged repeatedly the overthrow of both Hussein and Saud.

The Hashemite-Saudi feud dates from the late 19th Century when both fought for supremacy over the Arab Peninsula. In the early 1920s, Saud's father, the late King Ibn Saud, succeeded in driving Hussein's grandfather, the late King Abdullah, out of what has become a great desert oil empire of the Saudis. The British later set Abdullah up as monarch over independent Jordan and installed his brother, Feisal I, as king of neighboring Iraq.

The jest brought a laugh all around. Hoover is a dedicated canasta player, and often played with Allan and his wife, Margaret.

The widowed ex-president's head surgeon, Dr. Rudolph N. Schullinger, reported in a bulletin at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center last night that the patient continues to improve.

movements are the ones who want to cut this program the hardest."

—The United States has no evidence that Russian troops have moved into Cuba and Kennedy thinks an invasion of the Communist-aligned Caribbean country would be a mistake that could lead "to very serious consequences for many people."

—Kennedy said he is not familiar with any Russian proposal for a meeting in Berlin of the four occupying powers to discuss the divided city's future, but he said there will be a foreign ministers meeting before the U.N. General Assembly convenes next month.

Probe of Pesticides

In reply to questions on other topics, Kennedy said:

Government agencies are investigating possible dangerous side-effects from the widespread use of DDT and other pesticides; farmers withholding meats and grains from the market are trying to get higher prices, not deprive consumers of their products.

Pornographic literature is "a matter of concern for parents," but about all officials can do is enforce the laws as interpreted by the courts; the United States strongly supports Cambodia's independence and neutrality; "a very critical situation" would arise if Katanga is not integrated in the Congo.

Kennedy's statement on nuclear testing was in reply to a Soviet proposal in Geneva earlier in the day, suggesting an unpoliced ban on all tests by next Jan. 1.

The target date is reasonable, Kennedy said, but an unpoliced ban on underground tests is not. The United States learned a lesson last September when Russia broke a three-year moratorium and can't "be a party to any renewal of false hopes," he said.

Asked how an agreement signed only by the current nuclear powers would deter other countries from developing nuclear weapons, Kennedy said: "It is our hope that the signing... will arrest the spread and not make it essential."

He added: "but it is only a hope."

injunction issued in U.S. District Court. The U.S. Supreme Court overruled the decision.

A second strike was set but it also was canceled with the appointment of a presidential fact finding board which made its recommendations last June. A third strike date, Aug. 2, was set later but that walkout was called off when the union acceded to President Kennedy's request for a 45-day postponement.

But Goldberg Friday canceled the 45-day no-strike commitment, saying three weeks of negotiations had failed to effect a settlement.

The North Western operates freight and passenger service in Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan, Nebraska, North and South Dakota and Wyoming.

Public Works Bill Approved

$600 million for immediate use is higher than the Senate's $750 million. This could be attractive to the generally more liberal Senate.

Key Amendment

Rep. John A. Blatnik, D-Minn., shepherded the bill through the House. One of his aides said a key amendment to the House bill brought the measure closer to the language of the Senate bill. The amendment would allow projects in some critically depressed areas to have as much as 75 per cent federal financing.

The limit for federal financing of local projects had been 50 per cent, with localities required to provide matching funds.

The House passed another amendment which eliminated a proposed federal agency, the Office of Public Works Coordination. Republicans said the proposed $20,000-a-year director would be a "pork barrel czar."

Nineteen Republicans joined 22 Democrats against killing the bill. 148 Republicans and 44 Democrats, mostly Southern conservatives, voted to scuttle it.

Almost any kind of project could qualify under the bill, as long as it could be started immediately and finished in 12 months. These could include water and sewer lines, streets and sidewalks and public buildings—but it specifies no particular projects. Schools are excluded.

Goldberg to Be Justice of Supreme Court

There are similarities and differences between Frankfurter and the man who promised to do his best on the court even though "I cannot fill the place of an eminent jurist as Mr. Justice Frankfurter."

Both Frankfurter and Goldberg are Jews. Both came from immigrant stock. Both battled their way upward. Both battled, too, for unpopular causes they felt were right.

But Frankfurter's legal background was largely that of the Harvard professor. Many of his students became "brain trusters" in the new deal days of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Frankfurter was regarded as a crusading liberal in his earlier years and then as a conservative on the Frankfurter to retire were co-courts.

Labor Lawyer

Goldberg's 30 years of law were largely in the labor field. He had active service on the court as having run its course.

In a warm letter of reply, Kennedy voiced for himself and all that failing health had loved Americans "our respectful gratitude for the character, courage, pluck with generous appraisals of learning and judicial dedication Goldberg with which you have served your country over the last 23 years."

It was characteristic, he said, that is Goldberg's home town—said the Frankfurter had taken the judge, Cabinet member, measures up to merit of his doctors and "set it every standard required for a sternly against your own demanding standard of judicial effectiveness."

The Kennedy reply was delivered by his special assistant on national security affairs, McGeorge Bundy.

Goldberg happened to be at the White House about that time. The President was sending him to Chicago to try to head off a strike of telegraphers against the Chicago and North Western Railway, and they had been talking about the dispute.

Kennedy, an aide said, told the secretary of Frankfurter's retirement, discussed the question of a successor, offered Goldberg the position and received an immediate acceptance.

Goldberg is 54, greying, usually smiling, always bouncing around with seemingly unflagging energy. He was among those mentioned for the Supreme Court at the time Kennedy made his first appointment to the tribunal, that of Deputy Atty. Gen. Byron R. White.

A Permanent Reapportionment Plan

Atty. Gen. John Reynolds who is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor says that "reapportionment should be taken out of the political arena and placed in the hands of a non-partisan reapportionment commission."

This is not a new idea but it is a good one. Mr. Reynolds has had about as much experience with the reapportionment problem as anyone living in Wisconsin today and thus may be considered an expert on the subject. But the idea he proposes has been put forth by many others in the past. In fact it might be said that almost everyone who gives much attention to the problem comes to the same conclusion. Usually the central idea for change is the same but there have been many other variations on the suggested composition of the commission.

The Post-Crescent is of the opinion that legislatures are, by their very nature, incapable of carrying out an equitable and workable reapportionment plan. When a legislator considers reapportionment he naturally considers his own position first. When he is satisfied that his place is safe he considers the effect upon his party. Then he looks with sympathy upon his neighbors in the legislature, particularly if they are of his political persuasion. Obviously a legislator whose goal is to protect his own personal interests, those of his party and those of his friends, is not likely to come up with a reapportionment plan which protects the rights of all the people although that should be the goal of reapportionment.

When we say most people favor reapportionment by a commission we should exclude particularly the legislators. Legislators want to keep reapportionment in their own hands although they know very well that they are incapable of doing a good job of it. But when a poor job suits their purpose they don't want a good job by anyone including an impartial commission. But since legislators are usually intelligent persons and often fair-minded when their own interests are not involved, it is possible that a legislature could be induced to provide for a commission to handle reapportionment. The way to do this is to provide for the new reapportionment scheme to become effective after the next census in 1970. We are confident that most legislators could take a more objective view of reapportionment after 1870 than they can today.

After 1870 very few persons in the legislature today will be present. In fact very few persons active in political parties today will be active after 1970. It is even possible that the policies now being urged by the Republican party will, after 1970, be those urged by the Democratic party. Things often change that quickly. In the next eight years there will be tremendous changes. One thing, however, probably will not change and that is the need for representative government in the United States.

The legislators of today should sit down and reason together. Most of them will agree that one of the greatest blessings this nation has is truly representative government. They should then consider that it is within their power not only to guarantee continuance of representative government in this country but also to greatly improve upon the representative government we have had in the past. All they need to do is to amend the state constitution to provide for reapportionment by an impartial commission upon a regular basis after each federal census. This rule should include not only reapportionment of the legislature but also of the congressional districts and of the city wards by similar commissions.

Little Lost Children

The matter of abortion, which has been in much current discussion due to the discovery of deformities probably caused by thalidomide, really cannot be settled by legislation except in a negative sense. The law can state what can be allowed. But abortion is essentially a religious or at least an ethical and not a political problem.

Whether an individual considers abortion permissible in any case depends upon his own beliefs and opinions on two matters—when life as a human being begins and whether taking of such human life is ever right.

Life begins long before a child is conceived. Some religions recognize this in opposing any form of artificial birth control. But no one really considers as sinful the automatic destruction of the sperm and ova if conception does not take place for one reason or another. Other denominations and individuals consider that the fetus is a human being and subject to prohibitions against murder. Still others point to the moment of birth as the moment of creation as far as a human being is concerned. Primitive societies exposed unwanted infants, especially girls, to the elements with the view that it was more ethical than the deprivation to the rest of the family if the baby was permitted to live.

The ethics of killing also differs with the culture. Legally, killing by accident or in a fit of rage is not considered as serious as premeditated murder. Execution by the state still holds in the majority of these United States. Killing in self defense or in war is not punishable by law generally.

Abortion is permitted in most states, but not by all religions, to save the life of the mother. It has been recommended to be permitted if conception occurs through rape or incest, if serious physical or mental results to the mother may occur, or if the fetus is thought to be deformed.

Some study of the cases of deformity ought to be made by any parents considering abortion.

Dr. Claude Lambert, professor of orthopedic surgery at the University of Illinois Medical College, and head of a large clinic for child amputees, states flatly that "one can almost say, the greater the deformity, the higher the intelligence," in the cases of phocomelia, the congenital disorder that causes babies to be born without arms and legs or with only vestigial traces.

The German mothers who took thalidomide were in general horrified when their deformed babies were born. But they have risen to the challenge which hardship often brings. The development of artificial devices has helped to minimize the deformities. Dr. Lambert says that they are yet to find a child who can't be fitted with a functional limb.

Parents with handicapped children have found that in many cases the unhampered faculties are strengthened. The blind hear better and with more discrimination. The crippled develop powerful arm and chest muscles. The deaf learn to read lips. Most of us do not develop our faculties as well as we could and handicaps serve to emphasize other abilities. Beyond that there may be special compensations which are not merely the result of training.

No parent-to-be knows what the unborn child will be like. A child with a perfect body and beautiful face may be mentally defective or unable somehow to comprehend moral values. There are dreadful impediments of will and character still hidden in their genes. Ideally we would all want brilliant youngsters with healthy bodies and perfect characters. But what happens if we must choose—or have the ability to choose?

As has been shown by the parents of the deformed youngsters, love does not distinguish between the crippled and the whole. Does a parent really dare?

A Real Test for the Press

One of the most serious threats to freedom of the press that has occurred in years took place earlier in the month in Cleveland. A local teamsters union, objecting to a line in an advertisement being carried by the Cleveland Press, halted distribution of the newspaper for about 20 minutes. The line was ordered deleted by the management.

An advertisement placed by the local of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists included a warning to prospective union members: "Remember—you can be proud to be a member of the IAM, but you can only be ashamed to be a member of the teamsters." A union agent came to the paper to protest, he said later, as the run was going and the trucks were waiting to be loaded. Things seem a little confused as to who gave orders to whom, but at any rate the members of the teamsters union refused to load for about 20 minutes.

Editor Louis B. Seltzer had, in the meantime, ordered the offending line removed but because he thought it irrelevant and, he says, before he heard about any union protests.

Since the incident, both the union agent involved and an attorney for the teamsters have apologized, saying the whole matter was misinterpreted. The attorney has written glowingly to Mr. Seltzer in praise of the "stalwart defense of your integrity and attitude with regard to a free press." In an editorial, Mr. Seltzer said he would have tossed the union agent out of the window if he had been contacted at the time.

Undoubtedly responsible labor leaders are appalled at this apparent attempt to dictate the content of a newspaper. Newspaper strikes in the past have concerned the terms of employment of the strikers. But, despite the explanation and apologies, the Cleveland incident was clearly an effort to force a newspaper to change its content. If it can be done about an ad, it will be attempted concerning news columns and editorial policies.

The old bugaboo of newspapers was supposed to be pressure put upon its editorial staff by big advertisers, a threat that has seldom been verified. We sincerely hope that union officials who attempt such actions will be caught up short by their responsible superiors before the First Amendment becomes a mockery.

Disagrees With Review About Riverside Players 'Carousel'

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I wish to state publicly my admiration for the efforts of Tom Hrubecy, my lead performer in the just completed Riverside Players' production of Carousel, and the accompanying orchestra.

The reason I am doing this is that I'm afraid the Post-Crescent readers who did not see the production but read Mr. Joslyn's peculiar review would not be able to surmise the truth about those two elements of the production. The truth is that, far from being "miscast" as Mr. Joslyn asserted, Tom did a superior job with a difficult role and the sustained and vigorous applause he received from four capacity audiences, and which is preserved on tape, constitutes the proof. The same tapes may be used to mark the achievement of the orchestra, which, I would like to add, is a unique organization. I know of only one other group of amateur musicians in the area who has even attempted to play a musical score of such size and stature and the other was the smaller, at 17 pieces, Pinafore orchestra of last summer. Note that they had the same director, the very talented Steve Schultz, and a few of the same musicians. What is mystifying to me is that, apparently, Mr. Joslyn witnessed a performance and still found it possible to make remarks about these people which, I think border on the malicious.

Since the demise of an independently operated newspaper in Neenah, Menasha, the relationship between the Post-Crescent and the Neenah Recreation Department's Riverside Players has undergone some deterioration. I suspect that Mr. Joslyn's preoccupation with his own group, Attie Theatre, is somewhat responsible for this. Whether deliberate or not, it is true that our coverage has diminished considerably below Attie Theatre. I have always tried to do my best for the Cloaks; I have many good friends in the group dating back to my Lawrence days, and I am positive that they neither need nor seek any advantage over any other community theatre.

Furthermore, I seriously doubt that negative criticism of amateur theatre is ever justified. People who contribute their time because they love theatre deserve recognition for their accomplishments, not condemnation for their failures. Ultimately, the public will decide though.

unlike the professionals who may go on after adverse criticism to justify themselves with a long run, amateur theatre may have to justify itself through a series of productions. This was the case with both Attie and Riverside, and I feel sure that Mrs. Cloak does not look back with nostalgia to the days when there were only a handful of people attending Attie performances.

However, for Mr. Joslyn to make the negative remarks he did in the face of their obvious falsity indicates irresponsibility or poor judgment. Either way Tom and the Carousel orchestra deserve an apology. The rest of the cast, crew, directors and the 1,400 audience members (four capacity houses) would have had no success to share without them.

Looking Backward

War Looks Bleak in Virginia

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Sept. 6, 1962.

We will not pretend in the confused reports received from our correspondents to give our readers any particulars of the great battle. That it was terrible the fearful loss of life will testify.

Gen. Wadsworth took all the hacks at Washington and sent them to transport the sick and wounded.

The Bostonians made calls for the people to give lint, linen, whiskey, cordials, etc. for the wounded. A large amount of money also was collected. A train of eight double freight cars, filled with hospital stores, contributed by the citizens for the use of the wounded was sent. Mayor Waightman and a large corps of volunteer surgeons also left for Virginia.

The battles raged Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Monday. From all accounts we think we have not won a brilliant victory in these engagements. Our officers seem to have been over-generated in nearly every movement. The men fought bravely.

In Wednesday's battle, Gen. King's Brigade suffered severely, and 75 men of the 6th Wisconsin are reported killed. The 2nd Wisconsin lost 247 men and the 7th Wisconsin lost 186.

A prisoner says Stonewall Jackson made a speech to his men before the battle and he urged them to stand firm and fight to the last, for, if they were beaten, all hopes for the Southern Confederacy would be lost.

Public Lands Buying Runs Into Opposition

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — Nothing quite like the land rush that now is being executed by the Wisconsin conservation department under the impetus of the new Outdoors Recreation Act ever has been experienced in Wisconsin.

Wyngaard

During the months since the new recreational lands acquisition program sponsored by Gov. Nelson became effective last fall, more than 36,000 acres of private lands have come into state ownership at a cost of more than $3,000,000. The normally budgeted land buying of the department has continued at only a slightly lesser pace, so that during the last year the people of Wisconsin have increased their public land holdings by nearly 60,000 acres.

It is unlikely that anyone is going to object in principle to the purposes of this enormous land hunger of the state. The warnings of the population explosion are to be read everywhere in steadily increasing demands for outdoors recreation. If anything, this program comes late. Some of the tracts that the state wants to buy now are inordinately expensive — in part because some landowners have apparently found that the public appetite has increased their valuations.

DOUBTS

Yet there can be some doubts, perhaps, about the ability of this agency to digest these huge acquisitions.

The lists of acquisitions before the conservation commission at each monthly sitting are so prodigious that it is evident that the policy makers, at the top of the administrative pyramid can have only the most vague conception of what it is that they are buying. They are at the mercy of the appraisers in the field, who apparently are under pressure to send in as many options as they can sweep into their files each month.

The lister at these proceedings, however, recognizing that some errors and miscalculations probably are a necessary part of the price paid for what is in reality a crash program of providing outdoors recreational opportunities for the next couple of decades, must also reflect on the operations and maintenance implications of these properties.

Most of these are bare tracts, in the sense that they are raw and wild and do not contain the facilities that the urban dweller of today regards as minimal to his comfort, whatever his devotion to the outdoors life. Many more hundreds of thousands of public money in the future are implied in the probable development of parking lots, boat access points, picnic equipment, camping grounds, sanitary and water facilities, not to mention patrol and service personnel.

RESISTANCE

Here and there are signs of some public resistance to the rush for state land ownership. A group of Rock County rural free holders hired a lawyer to protest to the commission recently about a proposed public hunting ground that would abut their farms and orchards.

They support the goals of conservation, they asserted solemnly, but they fear the barrage of shot and shell on their properties. In Sauk County some private land owners are protesting a big camping ground plan of the department. In Door County where the Outdoors Recreation Act proposed a couple of big new parks to supplement two huge state parks already there, the county board shows no indication that it is ready to back the absorption of more taxpaying property into the exempt land list of the state.

On the whole, however, this is a manifestly popular effort, and a word of tribute is due to the superb propaganda skills of the men who helped to win popular enthusiasm for it. Gov. Nelson's men have consistently tagged it the "$50,000,000" program. They could have said $5,000,000, which covers the annual planned disbursement. They could have said $100,000,000, which approximates the expenditure over 20 years. There is no reason why they should have picked a 10 year figure, except that it had an attractive and resonant echo.

It's a Shame You Can't Detect All Lies This Easily

From the Alabama Journal

A Chicago judge took action the other day that would have a salutary effect if more generally followed. A woman who had obtained a divorce testified in the course of further proceedings that she saw her ex-husband removing wires beneath the dashboard of her car. Later she admitted that she lied. The judge denounced her "vindictive" attitude, sent her to jail for 15 days for contempt of court and announced that she would be held to the grand jury for perjury.

Telling malicious lies in court is by no means restricted to women. If all guilty of this could be detected and similarly punished it might necessitate some expansion of jail facilities but the effect would be beneficial in more ways than one.

Mrs. Arthur Hartzheim and Mr. Otto Ertl.

Employees of Appleton State Bank entertained at the M. A. Schuh cottage on Lake Winnebago for Miss Mary Jane DeBeatty and Wayne Turner who were to be married in September.

Committee chairmen for the St. Mary Church bazaar scheduled for late September in Columbus Hall included William Besaw, Adolph Geyer, Anton Ellebecker, Pat Miron and Frank X. Bachmann.

George Swamp pitched a no-hit, no-run baseball game the previous night when the Forster Taverners of Appleton beat the New London opponents, 4-0. He fanned 19 batters and allowed only one man to reach first base—on a walk in the ninth inning.

Surveys Now Entrenched In Society

Important Enough to Affect Thinking of American Public

NEW YORK (AP)—Surveys are fast becoming an accepted part of everyone's life. The making of them is a business in itself. They tell where we were, where we are, where we think we're going.

Some businessmen complain they spend so much time filling out questionnaires about what they are doing or intend to do that they don't have time to do it.

But for good or ill some surveys now affect thinking and planning—and acting. Others (so wide is the field of late) are laughed off as trivial or self-serving.

The taking of surveys is a widespread occupation in both high and low places. The government for example does it.

Federal departments ask businessmen how much they plan to spend for plant and equipment. They ask consumers how much they think they're going to spend for what things, and how they feel about the chances of meeting the bills thus incurred.

Private organizations—educational, industrial, researching publishing—plow this same field. The effect of these surveys on business thinking and planning is considerable. The surveys thus become both a tool for the economists and a stimulant or deterrent to the economy.

A Good Question

How much consumers trim their own actions to their reading of survey findings is still a question. But it's apparent that many stock traders watch them closely for tips on the business cycle.

Many industrial groups survey the findings and plans of their members. Some aim at gaining information some at influencing thinking or action.

Individual companies come up with surveys of their own, and their findings often predictably favorable to the future of their products or services.

A common byproduct of a survey is a trend. The company or group or publicity agent making the survey finds that its inquiries all point in one direction—usually a trend spelling profit for the one who made or paid for the survey.

The hope is that once a trend is sighted and trumpeted enough others will want to conform to it to make that trend really profitable.

Originally surveys were mostly designed to gather facts or figures or percentages. There are many refinements of this general idea.

One is called motivational. That is, consumers (or businessmen) are questioned closely to see why they do this or that, buy this product instead of another. Going a step further the designers of such probes say they can detect subconscious reasons that affect sales, product popularity or a corporation's image.

Subdivisions of such inquiries are almost infinite. Color experts use them to determine package and product designs. The variations of scent become subjects for consultations in directors' board rooms. Consumers' ideas, out fast or lack of it are eagerly sought by makers of beverages.

Sex is very much part of the surveying gambit. A recent example: A survey has been made of what young couples think of bucket seats in cars as opposed to the old style seats built for togetherness.

The finding: The honeymoon is over when the couple says it sees nothing wrong with bucket seats.

School Segregation Ends in Chattanooga

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Chattanooga cast aside color barriers in its school system Wednesday, quietly admitting seven Negroes for registration at two previously white schools.

They were the first of 39 Negroes scheduled for admission to six white schools.

In addition, the city is the first in the South to try to place white youngsters in one-time Negro schools. Some 32 white youngsters were scheduled for enrollment at four schools which served only Negroes last year.

Court Without Frankfurter Will be Dull

Retiring Justice Man Of Many Images and Blazing Contrasts

BY HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Not long ago a lawyer gazed wistfully at the empty chair on the bench of the Supreme Court and remarked: "What a dull day when Frankfurter isn't around. He stirs some of the other justices up."
Felix Frankfurter, 79, who kept the court stirred up for 23 years—from New Deal to the New Frontier—won't be around any more. The bright-eyed energetic justice who sometimes whistled "The Stars and Stripes Forever" in the tribunal's marble halls, has resigned because of failing health.
Razor-Tongued
Many lawyers who quaked in their boots at the razor-tongued Frankfurter's bench-jockeying no doubt greeted the end of an era with relief.
Frankfurter is a man of many images, of blazing contrasts.
To his admirers, his many sides were the facets of a brilliant diamond.

Given a Red Tinge

Frankfurter Smeared Early, Late in Career

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The greatest irony in Justice Felix Frankfurter's life is this: At the beginning and end of his career on the Supreme Court an attempt was made to give him a red tinge.
It is ironic because this prim and pedantic justice who retired at 79 Wednesday because of illness went on the court as a hero to liberals and as the years passed increasingly disappointed them with his conservatism.
His whole life was dedicated to minutes, then went back to the attack with more questions.
No Children
Frankfurter and his wife, who are very close, have no children. Mrs. Frankfurter, who for years has suffered with arthritis, is said to be the only person who can calm him down.
Born in Vienna, Frankfurter didn't know a word of English when he arrived in the United States at the age of 12. He quickly made up for lost time.
His last major opinion read from the bench was a dissent that ran about 22,400 words.
In an early opinion Frankfurter noted that he wished to say "one word more," then said about 10,000 words more.

Bad Time for 'Brides Packet,' Byrnes Suggests

New Tax-Supported Service Sponsored By Agriculture

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Rep. John W. Byrnes, R., Green Bay, today took a crack at Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman for "extending the activities of his department to include an advice-for-brides service."
Referring to the new "Packet for Brides" now compiled by the Agriculture department, the Wisconsin congressman commented even married a bride. I also love ers' expense?"

tartly that "one would think this is a poor time for Mr. Freeman, who has enough other troubles, to start a tax-supported bride service."
"The packet consists of an attractive brochure, with a picture of a demure bride (in pink) on the cover, and contains 10 agricultural publications and a letter of congratulations from the Secretary of Agriculture, who says he wants to help the bride 'in her new experience of shopping for two,'" Byrnes explained.
Byrnes Loves Brides
Stating that he had received such a packet from Mr. Freeman, if the congressman disclosed that the secretary also offered to furnish him with as many packets as chure for Babies is upcoming," he wished, to send to brides in his Byrnes mused. "And will there be 'Gadgets for Grooms', 'Trifles for Teenagers', 'Oddments for Old-Folks', or 'Miscellany for Mothers-in-Law', all designed, written, as Mr. Freeman does, I ed. sealed and mailed at taxpayer's expense?"

Ike Says Disarmament Plan Goes Far Enough
NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today he thought the latest U.S. disarmament proposals "went about as far as any sane person could go."
But he added: "The Soviets as of now will not agree to any decent inspection that would give us any confidence to go ahead and disarm."
Eisenhower commented during a shipboard news conference on his return from a five-week tour of six European countries.

sidings in the area. Engines were being taken to yards at Fond du Lac, a North Western spokesman said today.

Pickets were reported at Antigo, Eland, New London, Fond du Lac, Neenah, Oshkosh, Kaukauna, Appleton, Manitowoc and Green Bay.

Striking telegraphers, rail employees laid off and union members refusing to cross picket lines will begin receiving strike benefits immediately, J. F. Young, ORT vice president and captain for the area, said. Young said workers will receive $10.20 a day in accordance with provisions of the Railway Retirement contract.

Buss Traffic Up

No passenger trains moved today on the line. Greyhound bus lines reported a large increase in business.

Extra buses were being put on to handle passengers.

Other rail lines and trucking services were expecting increases in shipments.

Appleton postmaster Francis Sumnicht said this morning that the strike had not affected postal service thus far.

"Right now we're sitting tight and waiting for instructions. Our postal service officer is in Green Bay making other arrangements now. We expect to have those instructions soon," Sumnicht said.

The Lake Shore division of the North Western operates 1,500 miles of track. The division has headquarters at Green Bay.

Division officials said that the strike would cost railroad workers an estimated $250,000 a week in lost wages.

To Your Good Health

See Doctor at Signs Of Internal Bleeding

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Doctor: You have written that a very dark or black stool might indicate blood high up in the intestine, but did not explain what such blood would indicate or what examination might or should be made. Please do so and alleviate my anxiety." — R.L.D.

It's a tarry black stool that we're talking about, and it is something that you should disturb a sufferer of it.

Rectal bleeding (such as from piles or other causes) is red, of course. But bleeding farther up in the intestinal system permits chemical action to change the red blood to this black color.

Possibly Dangerous

The bleeding may be from any of a number of places: stomach, duodenum, colon. At best, the cause should be ascertained and this corrected. At worst, it can be a sign of something highly dangerous—cancer, for example, and the sooner it is investigated, the better the chance of cure.

Other causes include polyps, ulcers of stomach or duodenum. Let's, for example, suppose that it is an ulcer which bleeds periodically. Such loss of blood might result in some degree of anemia and should be corrected as fast as possible. Afterward I felt light-headed, around feeling tired and "dragged."

Is there anything wrong that needs medical attention?—MRS. R.L.

This certainly sounds as though something is wrong. Have it investigated. One possibility is deficient circulation; another is some local eye disease, glaucoma, being an example.

Lumps on Breasts

Dear Dr. Molner, I am 14 and very worried about cancer. There are lumps in both my breasts. Sometimes they get very sore. — P.C.

It is quite unlikely that it's cancer, because cancer is extremely rare at your age. Small cysts, which can become sore and even enlarge periodically are far more common. Talk this over with the doctor, both to reassure yourself

CHICAGO (AP)—Nearly 22,000 persons were killed in the nation's traffic accidents in the first seven months of this year, including a record toll in July, the National Safety Council reports.

The council said the traffic death toll from Jan. 1 to Aug. 1 was 21,910, including 3,840 persons killed in July.

and, if required, to have treatment to ease the discomfort. It may well be, however, that your doctor will decide that nothing needs to be done.

Army Chaplains Revive Friendship With Visit

BY HAROLD KURTZ
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

FREEDOM — A Protestant pastor and a Catholic priest who hadn't seen each other since they used to share a jeep in the jungles of Panama during World War II had a reunion Tuesday.

The Rev. Alfred Hietpas, pastor of St. Nicholas Catholic Church, was host to the Rev. Archael Meredith, Wadsworth, Kan.

The two pastors served as chaplains in Panama during World War II.

"We served 48 jungle outposts together," Father Hietpas said.

Traveled Together
The two chaplains traveled together to jungle outposts during the early days of World War II when the Canal Zone was a prime target.

"Often times there'd only be a few men in the places we'd visit," Pastor Meredith explained.

The chaplains related how they would ride a jeep or a carry-all through twisting trails, bringing with them a portable organ which they'd take turns using to conduct services for men of the 83rd Coast Artillery unit.

"I hadn't seen Father Hietpas since 1945 so I looked him up in the Catholic Directory and decided to pay him a visit," Pastor Meredith explained.

Together 3 Years
The two men spent almost three years together in Panama. To get them they served about 3,000 men.

"We lived on the main post, but we served the men who were stationed in the little outposts in the jungle," Father Hietpas explained.

Sometimes the chaplains would have to fly into the more isolated posts, he said.

All work wasn't religious. "We'd usually bring some entertainment along with us. We had a hillbilly singer for a while," Father Hietpas explained.

Pastor Meredith, his wife Marie, committee chairman. Elmer H. Garett and son Ronnie, are Vandenberg 1400 Riverway Lane, is stationed in Wisconsin. He is a secretary, and Charles Huesse, Veterans Administration Chaplain, 1542 N. Gillett St., treasurer, at a VA hospital.

Pastor Meredith, who serves the Church of the Nazarene, has requested documents with County mailed in the Army Reserve. He Clerk M. J. Pletzer.

holds the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Father Hietpas summed up the friendship of the two when he said "I know of no finer experience of teamwork than we had."

Tavernkeeper Denies Selling To Minors

CHILTON — Sherwood bowling alley proprietor Walter Michaels pleaded innocent Wednesday morning in County Court of two tavern violations involving minors.

Michels was charged with serving liquor to minors and permitting minors under 21 to loiter in the bowling establishment's barroom. Trial was scheduled for Sept. 19 and Judge D. H. Sebra through twisting trails, bringing with them a portable organ which they'd take turns using to conduct services for men of the 83rd Coast Artillery unit.

The arrest resulted from a raid by county authorities Aug. 19 led by Undersheriff C. J. Kosmosky. Kosmosky said he obtained statements from three minors.

Judge Sebra asked if charges were being brought against minors. The minors, or all people, are aware that they are breaking the law in a case such as this, Judge Sebra said, adding that the tavernkeeper does not always know. It takes both to produce the offense, he said.

The minors are state witnesses for the present. District Atty. F. J. Schmieder said.

Election Campaign Unit Formed for Assemblyman Priebe

A volunteer committee has been formed to work for the re-election of Assemblyman Kenneth Priebe of District 1, Outagamie County.

Appleton Aid, Alvin Tewes is committee chairman. Elmer H. Garett and son Ronnie, are Vandenberg 1400 Riverway Lane, is stationed in Wisconsin. He is a secretary, and Charles Huesse, Veterans Administration Chaplain, 1542 N. Gillett St., treasurer, at a VA hospital.

The committee has filed the re-quested documents with County Clerk M. J. Pletzer.

Mental stress and strain somehow may make teeth more susceptible to decay, at least in some adults, says an Australian dentist. Dr. Philip R. N. Sutton of Melbourne checked records of hundreds of people and found that an outbreak of tooth decay frequently followed times of great mental worry or stress. But he says the findings thus far are only suggestive, not conclusive.

Menu Magic For a Happy Weekend Ahead

The Shish Kabob for all its current popularity is an old custom of serving food. Way back in primitive times meat was cooked on a sword before the advent of pots and pans. Here the traditional lamb is threaded on skewers and cooked after being marinated in a piquant sauce for several hours. The vegetables go on the ends of the skewers for a final few minutes of broiling.

Cream Dressing For Picnic Slaw

The success of a coleslaw at a picnic is to prepare the dressing shredded the cabbage but pack each separately and carry to the picnic for tossing on the spot.

Pack shredded cabbage in a plastic bag to keep it crisp. Carry the cream smooth dressing to the picnic site in a jar. If prepared in advance, keep dressing refrigerated until ready to leave. Here's the recipe for the dressing.

Coleslaw Dressing
 1/2 cup instant powdered cream
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 teaspoon grated onion
 1/2 teaspoon celery seed
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 dash pepper
 1/4 cup water
 3 tablespoons vinegar
 Mix powdered cream, sugar, grated onion, celery seed, salt and pepper in a jar. Add water and vinegar. Shake to blend. Shake again before tossing with shredded cabbage. Recipe makes three-fourths cup of dressing.

Campers' Oatmeal

No need to stock perishables when you cook up a batch of creamy rich oatmeal this quick-mix way. For four to six hearty servings, combine two cups quick oats, one-half cup instant powdered cream, one teaspoon salt and four cups water in pan. Bring to a boil and cook one minute, stirring occasionally. Cover pan, remove from heat and let stand a few minutes. Serve in big mugs or bowls with two to three teaspoons instant powdered cream sprinkled over each serving. Stir to blend. Add brown or granulated sugar to taste. Thin if desired, with a little hot water.

Surprise Corn

Peel husks from corn as you would a banana without detaching the husk from the cob. Remove silk. Soak in water for 30 minutes, then drain. Brush corn with melted butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper and wrap corn ears in bacon strips. Roll husks back over the kernels, smoothing down the ends. Wrap each ear encased in husk in heavy-weight aluminum foil. Cook over hot coals, turning once for 10 to 15 minutes until tender.

Kitchen Plants

Kitchens nowadays no longer are considered off-limits to guests. More often than not they are the part of the dining area or family room. Green plants will work their decorative magic in kitchens as well as in other rooms. The new processed meat is Trailing foliage plants, such as available in Fox Cities markets. Philodendron cordatum or ivy, in wall planters make ideal decorations for narrow wall areas, between two nearby doors, often found in kitchens.

 Post-Crescent Food Editor

Labor Day weekend is a time for relatives to get together... for old friends to meet for one last outdoor fling before the end of summer. It's a time of family reunions when the clan gathers to catch up on all the news and feast around a table of good food. It's a time for the youngsters... off on their last outing before the school bell starts ringing in earnest for the year.

Food spells a big part of the weekend holiday... not quite like Thanksgiving or Christmas... but in its own way just as unique because American families have taken to celebrating Labor Day with picnic or barbecue meals. If it's a family affair in the offing, the meals usually take the form of potluck picnics with all sorts of hot dishes, salads, cakes and pies and relishes to crowd the tables.

The Scalloped Limas and Tomatoes is such a dish for good potluck fare. But it's a fine food to serve at a backyard barbecue or porch party, too. It can be made in individual dishes to serve at home or baked in a huge casserole for a park picnic event.

For those more barbecue minded, there's a recipe for Wiener Splits, a frankfurter special that teams with smoky cheese and has a topping of chopped onion and pickle relish. There are shish kebabs better known as Lamb en Brochette, also a recipe for delicious Orange Barbecue Lamb Sandwiches and Harlequin Potatoes, a new and enticing way to serve French fries.

Choose the one that fits your family's needs and the occasion for a good start for a Happy Labor Day Holiday.

- Scalloped Limas and Tomatoes
 3 slices toast
 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
 1 can (1 pound) green lima beans
 1 small onion, finely chopped
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
 1/2 cup melted butter
 1 cup grated cheddar cheese
 Cut toast into cubes. Combine with tomatoes, drained limas, chopped onion, add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Put into individual baking dishes or casserole. Bake in 375-degree oven about 25 minutes. This recipe makes about six servings.
- Lamb en Brochette
 4 to 5 pound leg of lamb, cubed
 1 cup wine vinegar
 1/3 cup salad oil
 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 1 medium onion, sliced
 1 bay leaf
 10 whole cloves
 Mushroom caps

A Simple Menu with imagination and stick-to-the-ribs qualities is the answer to a meal for a holiday such as Labor Day. Prepare ahead this dish of hearty Scalloped Limas and Tomatoes. Then pop the casserole or individual dishes into a preheated oven while the family chef is barbecuing the meat. Something to nibble on while the food is cooking, a salad and dessert are foods to round out the meal.

Perky Wiener Splits are so easy to make that even junior chefs can take over the job with sure-fire success. These sandwich treats are accented with smoky cheese and a topping of chopped onion and pickle relish.

- Tomato wedges
 Green pepper squares
 Combine vinegar, salad oil, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, onion, bay leaf and cloves. Pour this marinade over cubes of lamb. Chill for at least six hours or overnight in refrigerator. Remove cubed meat from marinade after chilling.
 Thread meat cubes onto skewers, leaving space for thorough cooking. The vegetables will be placed on ends of skewers later for cooking. Place skewers on

New Process Used To Tenderize Beef

Man has never enjoyed his meat touch, even back in the distant past.

The Aztec Indians of old were pounding their meat between the leaves of tropical papaya to change it from tough to tender quality. They didn't recognize the natural food enzyme in the tropical plant as such, but only knew it helped tenderize meat.

The modern housewife has known of it, she has read the label of the several meat tenderizers carefully, been sprinkling tough cuts of meat with the food enzyme papain for the same reason.

Now there's a new method on the same theme that's been developed by a national meat firm in its laboratories. It's literally the tenderizing of beef on the hoof by the papain process before the animal is slaughtered. The enzyme goes to work later when the meat is being cooked. The new processed meat is Trailing foliage plants, such as available in Fox Cities markets. Philodendron cordatum or ivy, in wall planters make ideal decorations for narrow wall areas, between two nearby doors, often found in kitchens.

Create Divider

In modern homes you can achieve the effect of two rooms from one by using an open shelf room divider. It can be used to separate living and dining areas or to provide a foyer area near the entrance door. Filled with growing green plants, these dividers give the effect of a wall. They not only permit ample air circulation but are pretty to look at from either side. Green plants always are a harmonious element in any room plan because green is a great blender in color schemes.

Proper Facing

Select interfacings with as much care as the garment material itself. It must be as washable as the garment itself, and suitable in weight to the amount of stuffiness or softness that you want.

French Dressing

Use 1 1/2 to 2 cup lemon juice when you are making French dressing with a cup of salad oil.

Refrigerate Meat Promptly

BY MARY-BETH KUESTER
Home Economist
Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co.

To keep meat high in quality in your home, refrigerate it until used and do the same for leftovers.

It's agreed that frozen meat is thawed only when you are ready to use it. But what about cooked meat? You may have heard that it is dangerous to put hot meat in your refrigerator. This is not true. It's very important to get the meat into the refrigerator and start cooling right away.

Another legend has it that leftover meat must be whisked from carver with little or no lapse of time. Well, you needn't rush the left-over meat to the refrigerator before you eat your meal. Just refrigerate it promptly.

For rapid cooling of meats in your refrigerator some of these hints may be helpful.

Cool meat and gravy separately. Put broth into a wide-mouthed jar or bowl. One-quart quantities cool quicker than larger amounts. Stirring the broth occasionally prevents formation of a fat layer which may seal in the heat.

Leave both meat and broth uncovered until cooled.

Spread pieces of meat in a flat pan. Large roasts may be cut in two to cool more quickly.

Remove stuffing from a turkey and cool both separately in your refrigerator. An unstuffed turkey cools as quickly as turkey meat removed from the bones.

When cooled, cover or wrap meat to prevent drying.

If you store cooked meats properly and use them within one or two days, you'll enjoy best flavor and deliciousness without danger of spoilage.

Menu Magic for Labor Day Meals

barbecue or broiler pan three inches away from heat source. Broil 10 to 12 minutes, turning once.

Drop green pepper squares into boiling water for two minutes. This can be done before or during the time meat is broiling.

Thread mushroom caps, tomato wedges and pepper squares on the skewers with meat, alternating vegetables. Baste vegetables with marinade and broil from two to three minutes. Recipe makes from six to eight servings.

Orange Barbecue Lamb Sandwiches

Sandwich buns
Sliced hot lamb roast
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon mint leaves
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1½ cups catsup
1 cup water
¾ cup orange juice
2/3 cups chopped onion

Combine all sauce ingredients in saucepan. Reserve sliced lamb. Bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, for about 30 minutes. Spoon sauce over hot sliced lamb between sandwich buns. Recipe makes three and one-fourth cups sauce.

Wiener Spillits

5 frankfurter buns
2/3 cup smoky cheese spread, softened
10 frankfurters
2/3 cup chili sauce
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup sweet pickle relish

Split frankfurter buns, spread each half with one tablespoon cheese spread. Cut frankfurters in halves lengthwise and crosswise. Place four quarters on each bun top with one tablespoon chili sauce. Place on baking sheet. Bake in 450 degree oven about 10 minutes, until cheese melts.

After cooking, spoon one teaspoon of pickle relish in center and two teaspoons chopped onion on both ends of five sandwiches. On remaining sandwiches reverse arrangement with one teaspoon onion in center and two teaspoons pickle relish on each end. Serve two halves per serving. Recipe makes five sandwiches.

Harlequin Potatoes

1/3 cup butter
1 cup sliced green onion
1 cup chopped green pepper
1 cup flour
1½ teaspoons salt
Dash pepper
3 cups milk
1 cup shredded American cheese
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1-pound pkg. frozen French fries
Paprika

Melt three tablespoons butter in saucepan, add green onion and green pepper. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until onions are tender. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk, cook until mixture is smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Add cheese and pimiento, stir until cheese melts.

Heat remaining butter in frying pan. Add French fries and brown lightly over low heat, turning frequently. Pour sauce over potatoes. Sprinkle with paprika and serve. Recipe makes four to six servings.

Party Dessert

This party dessert can be made days ahead of the party and left to mellow in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator. Combine 1-3 cup butter with 1 cup corn flake crumbs, 2 tablespoons sugar and 1 cup finely chopped pecans. Bake half of the mixture in a slow oven (300 degrees) for 10 to 12 minutes. Cool. Blend ½ cup of butter with 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar. Add 3 egg yolks and beat until very light. Add 2 squares melted, unsweetened chocolate. Beat the whites of 3 eggs until stiff but not dry. Fold into the chocolate mixture and spread over the crumb lined pan. Sprinkle remaining crumbs on top, cover and chill. Remove from freezer 15 minutes before serving.

Freeze Bread

Sweet rolls and coffee cakes should not be iced if they are to be frozen. Cakes will taste oven fresh if thawed 20 to 30 minutes in an oven preheated to 325 degrees. Apply the frosting as soon as removed from the oven. Chopped nuts and candied fruits makes attractive garnishes for sweet breads.

Water Away

If you're going away on a "quickie" vacation, or trip, for four or five days, here's how you can let your house plants take care of themselves and stay healthy while you're gone. Place all plants on thoroughly soaked bath towels in the bath, kitchen sink or laundry tub exposed to some light but not direct sunlight. Then set the water faucet so that one drop of water will fall every few seconds on the bath towels. The towels will conduct the moisture to the plant's soil, keeping plants in good condition until you return.

Newlyweds To Live in California

BONDUEL — California will be the new home of Mr. and Mrs.
Allen Strei. The couple exchanged nuptial vows in an 8 p. m. double ring candlelight ceremony Saturday at Fueden Lutheran Church route 1. Bonduel The Rev. Adrian Wood officiated.

The bride is the former Miss
Bette Busch daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Busch Bonduel. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Strei Shawano are the parents of the bridegroom.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Roy Dirks.
Miss Diane Cagle and Miss
Bonnie Sordell attended as bridesmaids. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Terri Busch, a sister of the bride.

Earl Strei served as his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Dale Dirks and Rodney Busch, a brother of the bride.

A dinner was served at the church. A reception was held at

Potted Reminder

While on vacation away from home, keep your eyes open for unusual containers for your green plants and flowers. An interesting collection of pots not only will remind you of your trip but contribute to the beauty of your plants and flowers.

Your Problems

'Not Enough Time' Is Invalid Reason to Parentless Children

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I reply to "Back to the Wall"? — the woman who wanted to know what to tell her children when they asked questions about a divorced Dad. According to her "Dad" was a heel and it would have been preposterous to picture him as a saint.

Ann Landers

My former husband was a heel too. Here's the way I handled it.

The inevitable question came up: "All the other kids have fathers who love them. What's wrong with us?"

I replied, "Nothing is wrong with you. You are wonderful kids. People who don't seem to love you have terrible difficulties of their own. Actually they are sick. We will forgive them."

I believe in keeping the facts straight. Don't try to deceive your children into believing that "Daddy really loves you but he can't find time to call or write or visit." They won't buy it. And who can blame them in the face of abandonment, financial deprivation and everything that goes with being ignored for years?

Instead of trying to peddle the old nonsense that all parents love their children, it's best to teach them that some do and some don't, but either way a child can grow up to be a worthwhile member of society. The child who learns this early will be less likely to wind up on the psychiatrist's couch. — Wall Climber

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I applaud your forthright, honest approach. Mothers who are rearing children alone would do well to clip this column.

I'm a girl 17 who met a perfectly dreamy fellow in summer school. Doug was a whiz at math, which is my weakest subject. He came over several evenings and helped me crack the course.

If my parents had known how I felt about Doug they would not have allowed him to come over. You see, Doug is of a different religious faith and I am not allowed to date out of my religion.

The more I think about Doug the more stupid the rule seems. After all, in a democracy every one is supposed to be equal. If two people love each other why can't a mixed marriage work? — Babes

Dear Babes: A mixed marriage can work, but the chances are stacked against it. Marriage today has enough hazards without this problem.

Two faiths in one household could add up to real trouble, especially after the children arrive. Sometimes the one who gave up his religion regrets it later and wants to renege on his promise to raise the children in the mate's faith. I needn't spell out the assortment of woes which could result from such behavior.

Your parents' rule is a sound one. There is plenty of evidence that a marriage has a far better chance of sticking when you stick to your own.

DEAR ANN: My son and his wife built a lovely new home. On the library wall they put up several framed pictures of members of the family—mostly relatives of my daughter-in-law.

It has been years since I had a professional studio picture taken so I asked my daughter-in-law if she would like a picture of me for her wall collection. She seemed delighted.

My picture came out nicely and

A Lovelier You
By Mary Sue Miller

Automatic Exercise

A mature lovely asks: I despise my bulgy areas, stemming from exercising and my figure is all slack muscles or faulty weight gaining to show it. My arms and distribution. And of course the legs are losing their firmness. boost my general health must not. Would the use of an exercise machine bring back tone?

The Answer: To firm up flaccid muscles must be vigorously and regularly exercised. They must contract and perform work. That is why exercise of the out door and spot rarely keep the body taut. Consistent workouts can also be recommended because they help to prevent and

But when you have no inclination for active exercise, there is value in machines that produce active exercise automatically. The effect of electronic impulses that gently contract the muscles some 400 times a minute—in whatever area you desire and with no conscious effort on your part.

As a result you relax while your muscles tighten up and gird up flesh. What you cannot expect of any machine or workout is a weight loss. Pounds can be reduced only by dieting.

In losing large amounts of weight, many women develop a flaccid condition. This could be prevented, however, were a reducer's muscles actively exercised during the dieting period. For an ideal figure, the rule of less eating and more exercising can never be side-stepped.

The Ailing House

Linoleum Comes Off With Knife

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q We just purchased an old house. The kitchen has a linoleum wall covering which we don't like. How can this be removed?

A Pry a corner of the linoleum loose with a blunt edged tool like a putty knife or screw driver. Then moisten the paste on the back of the wall covering. If it is a waterproof adhesive moisten with naphtha being sure windows are open and the room well ventilated, and being careful of fire hazard (be sure pilot lights are off). As the paste softens pry the covering loose from the wall.

Warped Board

Q I have a birch board about 14 by 36 inches, that I was going to use to make a low table. It has become slightly warped. How can I straighten it?

A Place the board concave side up, on a couple of chair backs or saw horses, where it can remain undisturbed for about ten days. The ends should project about 10 inches beyond the points of support at each end. On each projecting end, place heavy weights (heavy books, pails of water, large stones) and leave them for several days. If the warp doesn't disappear in about a week steaming (preferably by a professional cabinetmaker) may be necessary to straighten. A home method is to clamp the board to a sturdy firm frame of two by fours and slowly steam the concave surface with a steam iron, tightening the clamps slowly as the steaming continues until the board is flattened. This at best is somewhat haphazard if worth it to you have it done right.

Moss on Steps

Q Our house is built on a hill and we have several brick steps leading down to a garden in the rear. The bottom few steps developed moss on the surface and have become quite slippery. How can this be remedied?

A Scrub the bricks with a stiff brush and a strong detergent solution then rinse thoroughly with clear water. Then to the brick surface apply a liquid waterproofing preparation available at masonry supplies dealers, or a liquid mildewproofing preparation available at some large housewares departments, or marine supplies dealers. If shrubbery or trees shade these steps thinning out to permit entrance of sun and better air circulation in the area, will help prevent moss development.

Family's Safety Question of Time, Space, Traffic Control

Your family's safety is a question of time, of space and of traffic. While no two families live exactly the same way, the accidents they have tend to be very much the same and to occur oftenest during the same hours.

Whatever the apparent reason or underlying cause for accidents in the home, there's no doubt about the results. At a minimum there follows pain and irritation; and when the accident is more than a minor mishap, unhappiness and regret are added to these. No one can tell which accident may have serious or even fatal results, so it is sensible to try to cut down on all of them.

One way to do that is to discover which hazards your house is harboring and do what you can to remove them. Time is a big factor in the lives of most of us these days. Children rush to school, father rushes to work, mother rushes to get her household responsibilities done. Because contemporary life offers so many interesting diversions and satisfactions to all of us, we hurry through home, school or office duties in order to have extra time left over for the pursuit of outside activities, be it sports, community activities, or do-it-yourself projects at home.

Can Be Dangerous

Hurry and bustle combined with the use of labor and time-saving equipment can be a dangerous combination, therefore it is mandatory for a family to buy only approved equipment and to know how to use it properly. They know that hands should be dry before touching appliances, and they play safe by keeping radios, fans, portable heaters and hair driers out of the bathroom. They teach older children to use appliances properly and to disconnect them after use, or before attempting minor repairs.

They respect tools enough to use the right one. They know that a knife instead of a screw-driver or can-opener may do the trick but with possibly gory results. The mother knows she must close cupboards and drawers, and put away knives and sharp kitchen tools right after using them. She uses a step-ladder or sturdy kitchen chair to hang pictures or get at high shelves, and makes it a point to wipe up spilled water, food or grease quickly. She knows not to turn flames so high that they make food boil over and extinguish flames — or send flames clear over to curtains or dish towels, to read directions carefully, and to put on the light and read medicine labels twice before dosing herself or her family.

The father, eager to provide the nicest possible home for his family, knows well the need to take time for safety measures. He needs to keep stairs, porch and garage free of clutter, to store gasoline and other flammable fluids in tightly covered containers that have been clearly labeled, and to dispose of his paint and oil-soaked cloths quickly, and to burn these or other waste materials out of doors in a screened incinerator, watching the fire until it is out. He also has to remember to have the furnace and chimney checked and cleaned.

Space is at a premium in millions of homes, but no family finds it out faster than the one with a new baby. And since children are naturally social and inquisitive, they like to get close to things — fires, bottles, cans, windows, ladders, toasters, and particularly electric outlets. What we know as an electric cord attached to a bubbling percolator, to the baby is apt to seem delightfully like a rope, and obviously for pulling.

In the home where there are small children, all the obvious poisons like disinfectants, insecticides, bleaches, paint and cosmetics, must be put in a place where the little ones can't get at them. And of course all the medicines, too, for no matter how mild in proper dosage, they can be poison to an eager and indiscriminating child.

Careful parents never combine a highly waxed floor with a small child, and have put away the throw-rugs that really throw him. They put sturdy screens and locks on the windows and use an extension gate on the door when it's open. Extension cords are placed along the molding and electric outlets not in use are covered. The sewing box, with its attractive contents of pins, needles, scissors and buttons, is on a high shelf. There's a receptacle for used razor blades in the bathroom and a rack for sharp knives in the kitchen.

Hit, Miss in Homes

Traffic on city and streets and highways is kept under control, but in our homes it is pretty much a hit-or-miss affair, and particularly in the three-generation home it can be the underlying cause of many accidents. And when these, especially falls, happen to the older members of a family they can be a great danger. In such a household it is wise for the young parents to take the time and effort to train youngsters to be orderly and considerate in the matter of picking up toys and games from the floors or stairs.

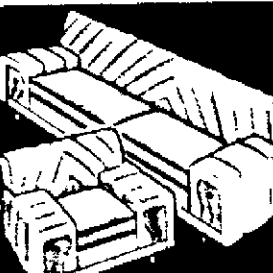

It is a help to place a big toy box in the living room and to put up shelves for games and toys upstairs. Also it is wise to hang a basket at the bottom of the stairway to receive small objects destined for the upstairs bedrooms. The elderly people in the home have to be especially careful too, to compensate for failing sight and hearing as well as reduced agility and lengthened reaction time.

Further measures for accident prevention include putting plenty of lights in halls and at stairways with conveniently placed switches, providing for extra-bright lighting in porch and cellar areas and keeping them relatively clutter-free, and taking up trailing extension cords which might trip the unwary, young or old.

Of course no family can control completely every factor which might lead to an accident. But we do have some control over our time, our space, and our family traffic, and if we think of them as tools to use to increase our family's safety and happiness together, home can be a very pleasant — and pleasantly safe — place indeed.

Medical Deduction Tax Ceiling Raised

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee approved a bill Wednesday to raise the ceilings on medical deductions allowed to private taxpayers.

The present requirement that only expenses above 3 per cent of income can be deducted would not be affected. However, the limits on deductions would be raised

Instead of a maximum of $2,500, could claim up to $10,000 instead of $5,000; heads of households 65 could claim up to $20,000 each or couples filing joint returns instead of $15,000.

Italian Cuisine Creative

BY MALCOLM R. HEBERT
Chicago Daily News Service

Italian cuisine, like French, is varied, imaginative and festive. And, like many cuisines of the world, Italian cooking varies from region to region with each region producing a specialty all its own.

Americans have taken to Italian cooking with its wines, oil and especially its garlic. As with countries all over the world, Italian wines are perfectly suited to Italian food.

The world of Italian cooking originated as home cooking with mama using her head and her heart to prepare something special or something new.

In almost all Italian cooking, there is a sauce.

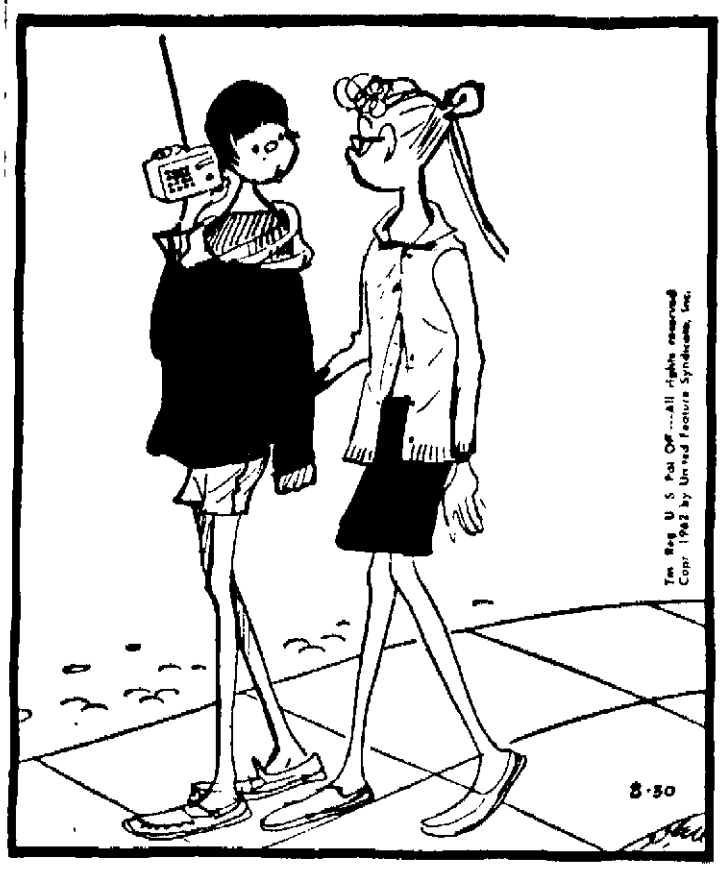

Some chefs claim that a good sauce for Italian food must cook for 24 hours while others claim that a good sauce must contain many spices and herbs.

While long, slow cooking is important in the preparation of many dishes, it is not necessarily so for this sauce. This sauce is easy to prepare and is as tasty as any sauce that's cooked for 24 hours.

Moreover, it can be used with steak, veal, ham, chicken or any pasta.

Sauce Alla Romana (Roman Sauce)
2 tablespoons olive oil
2 cans (10 ounce) tomatoes
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
1/2 teaspoon oregano
4 cloves garlic, sliced thinly

Heat oil in a saucepan. Add tomatoes, parsley, salt, pepper, oregano and garlic. Cook in a covered pan 15 to 20 minutes. Taste and correct seasoning. Recipe makes six servings.

APPLYING COSMETICS AT TABLE

I have recently seen a recurrence of something that has happened on numerous occasions and now I cannot write and ask your opinion of this habit that some of my friends have. I often have lunch with friends either in a restaurant or at a club. Two of these friends have the annoying habit of plopping their handbags and packages on the dining table, then after their lunch they will make up their faces right at the table. I usually look for a hole in the corner to crawl into. I am sure that I also have faults but I do hope and pray that they are not as crude or annoying as this is to me.

Louise Davis Answers:

Of course it is always better mannered to go to a powder room for any after-lunch or after-dinner make up, but occasionally it is either awkward or inconvenient. All the motions of making up including the mirror, the lipstick, the powder puff should be avoided if possible, but in an emergency, there is a way of doing it unobtrusively without creating attention. Surely the powder can be applied later. When women dine together at a club, the powder room is the place to do it. I see no reason or need for plopping packages on the table. There is always a place under the table to put them.

The Big Eye in the Sky Sees Enterprise Ahead

DEAR CY: Since you air readers' views besides dishing out advice, I have a word of warning. Telstar, that great new television station in space, is supposed to be one of the greatest advances of all time. I say it's an independence killer. Everyone should realize these so-called communications advances squelch man as an individual. Only a colossal corporation could shoot Telstar into space, and they did. Yesterday was nothing like tomorrow. World exposure is now a part of our daily lives. Who knows where it will lead? Like in George Orwell's book, "1984," Brother Will Be Watching You. Whether in business, politics, or raising bees for honey. We would family life, there will be no more like to know if this could develop into a full-time business with a reasonable profit. Also, what size farm do we need? Have

DEAR SIESSLER: That big eye in the sky sparkles with advances. It was private enterprise that got it up there. And, big advances have always been forerunners of greater opportunities for big and little men. Think of the telephone! Think of television! Man is basically an independent animal. This new era of communications will mean new opportunities for independence and enterprise. What do you have to hide?

DEAR RUTH: Honey is nature's oldest sweetener, and reams are written on the subject. Over 325,000 people keep bees in the U. S. today, and only a few are full-timers. You do not have to live in the country to keep bees. In the heart of New York City are bee keepers! Write the department of agriculture for its March, 1961, bulletin on bee culture, also its other information on bees, including their "Wintering, Care and Handling of Honey," and one on bee behavior. (Ask about the honey price supports.)

DEAR GRAHAM: This is no time to fool around trying to defraud an auto insurance company. The mutual casualty companies and the stock exchange are busy checking fraudulent claims and unethical practices of lawyers and physicians in the casualty field be done by two separate groups. And... note. Almost all of the claims bureau's investigators are ex-F.B.I. agents.

Supreme Court Every Lawyers Dream

Mrs. Goldberg Jubilant as Husband Gets Appointment

BY PETER LISAGOR

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Dorothy Goldberg missed President Kennedy's televised news conference announcing her husband's appointment to the Supreme Court.

She was out getting a new hairdo and shopping for the family dinner.

"Arthur was on the phone when I got home and told me about it," she said, her voice surcharged with pride and emotion. "I'm so excited I'm incoherent."

How did her husband feel about his elevation to the highest court in the land? "What lawyer does not have it in his heart..." her thought was interrupted by a burst of reminiscences. "Early in our married life, when we would come to Washington, our first pilgrimage was always to the Supreme Court. There, we'd see Brandeis and Cardozo."

Looked Too Young When Arthur had his first case before the Illinois Supreme Court, she recalled, he looked so young that he had trouble getting admitted to the courtroom.

Her husband's love of the law was an early affair. Before they were married, she said, the two used to spend dates in the Northwestern University law library. "He made the highest grades in law school ever up to that time while carrying a full time job with Kansner & Halligan. Isn't it funny? I had trouble remembering that name until just this minute."

Judicial Temperament

"If anybody is of that judicial temperament, it is Arthur Goldberg. All the way through school, at parties, in debate, his gift was to get at the heart of things. I'm glad for the country and the court. It's such an honor to the whole family and such a privilege to be able to serve. If it could happen to Arthur Goldberg, it could happen to a child of yours. That's the kind of country America is. I'm so grateful to be an American."

Milk Beverage

If you have a problem getting some members of the family to consume milk, try this recipe. Mix 1 1/2 cups milk (in dry form) with 3 tablespoons each of cocoa and sugar and a pinch of salt. Add 3 cups of water and place the pan over the burner with the automatic heat control set at 190 degrees, stirring occasionally. After 3 minutes of cooking, lower the flame to 170 degrees and add 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon. Cover the pan and let stand until serving time. Serves 4

Cleveland Stops New York Yanks In Doubleheader

Twins Take Second Place With 5-3 Win Over White Sox

BY JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Back in mid-season the Cleveland Indians were very much in the American League running and giving the New York Yankees fits.

They're heading into the stretch now and the Indians have dropped off sharply. But you know what? They're still giving the Yankees fits.

With a late-inning rally in one game and an early-inning spurt in the other, Cleveland's seventh-place Tribe beat Ralph Houk's reeling Yankees twice Wednesday 5-2 and 9-5. It was the Indians' fourth doubleheader sweep over New York this season and gave them 11 victories in 17 games with the fizzling Bombers.

But more important, it made eight losses in the last 10 games for the Yankees—and there are a couple of pursuers moving up.

Star right-hander Camilo Pascual won for the first time since afflicted with a sore elbow a month ago as Minnesota took its fourth in a row, 5-3 over Chicago, and moved into second place—just two games back of New York. Kansas City trimmed Los Angeles 6-0 on Orlando Pena's three-hit pitching, but the Angels inched up a half game and now are three games off the pace.

Orioles iWn

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore cut loose for a 9-3 romp over Washington while the Detroit Tiger-Red Sox doubleheader at Boston was rained out.

The Indians settled the opener against reliever Bud Daley after two were out in the eighth inning when hits by Tito Francona, Willie Kirkland and John Romano broke a 1-1 tie and Woody Held drove across what proved the clincher. Roger Maris homered in the last of the eighth, and hit No. 31 in the second game.

Cleveland warmed up with two runs off rookie Jim Bouton in the second inning of the nightcap.

Bolt Fires 64 to Lead Dallas Open

DALLAS (AP)—Tommy Bolt of Old Brookville, N.Y., former National Open champion, shot a 6-under-par 64 Wednesday to lead the pro-amateur that's a forerunner to the $35,000 Dallas Open Golf Tournament.

Bolt had 32-32 over the 6,658-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course, banging seven birdies against one bogey.

He won $350 top money for low pro Jay Hebert of Miami had a 65 for second money of $200 and Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., laid down a 66 for $255 third money.

Jerry Pittman of Tulsa and Bob Bruno of Countryside, Ill., tied the team competition. Their four-somes each had a 54 best ball and Pittman and Bruno won $262.50 each.

Bruno cashed in for $196.67 for tying for third low pro with a 67, thus made $459.17.

Doug Sanders, one of the favorites for first money in the Dallas Open that starts Friday, had a 68. Defending champion Earl Stewart registered a par 70. Johnny Pott, former champion, had a 69.

National Open champion Jack Nicklaus arrived too late to play in the pro-amateur but still is one of the top favorites for the $5,300 first money.

Milward Rallies To Win NEW Open

Jim Poulsen Wins Three-Way Playoff for Runnerup Honors

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Billy Milward, the Oneida Golf and Riding Club pro who has designed his own putter to be marketed, went putter shopping Tuesday night. He had just finished a bad day on the greens in the Northeastern Wisconsin Open Golf Tournament.

And he found one to his liking in, of all places, Jim McNicoll's pro shop at Shorewood Country Club, site of the tournament.

Wednesday, Milward used that putter to win the tournament title with a brilliant one under par 69, the only sub-par round carded in the entire tourney. Added to his 74 the opening day, the diminutive and dapper pro wound up with a 143 total to carry off the top trophy with a two stroke cushion.

Shorewood's Jim Poulsen took second place after a sudden death playoff with clubmate Joe LaNicklaus arrived too late to play in the pro-amateur but still is one of the top favorites for the $5,300 first money.

Cosse took a bogey and the tir-ing Steffen a double bogey.

Scrambling Day

Steffen, who led Milward by four strokes heading into the round after a 70 yesterday, had a scrambling day and finished the first nine three over and then bogied 14, 15, 16 and 17 before recovering for a bird on 18 with a tee shot that put him right in front of the green to tie Poulsen and LaCosse.

Poulsen, who was only one behind Steffen at the tourney mid-way point, double bogied seven and bogied eight for a 58 coming out and sank a 10-foot birdie putt on 18 to manage the tie. LaCosse, musing putts with amazing regularity, somehow stayed one over on the first nine and used a beautiful approach from out of the trees on 18 to salvage a par coming home.

On the playoff hole, Poulsen one putted from four feet for his par while LaCosse's 12-footer rimmed his cup but failed to fall and he took a five. Steffen missed his approach and three putted for a six. Shorewood's Chuck Steeno ap-sen parred the playoff while La-

LA Opens 6 1/2-Game Lead

Dodgers Edge Redlegs, 2-1, In 13th Behind Ed Roebuck

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Comeback of the year? How about Ed Roebuck, the dead-arm guy of 1961 who's turned out to be a real live one for the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

The 31-year-old relief specialist continued his spectacular come-back Wednesday night, pitching upper innings of shutout relief before the Dodgers finally edged Cincinnati's third-place Reds 2-1 in the 13th inning.

It was the ninth victory against no defeats for Roebuck, who used sheer guts and constant toil to break down the adhesions behind his right shoulder after spending almost the entire 1961 season on the disabled list and showing little promise in spring training.

The doctors had given up on Roebuck, but Roebuck hadn't. He worked out at the Arizona Instructional League last winter and also threw to the Dodger farm hands. He kept at it during spring training and finally made the team. Now he just might be making a pennant winner.

Dodgers 6 1/2 Ahead of Reds

Roebuck's triumph shot the Dodgers 6 1/2 games in front of the defending champion Reds and placed San Francisco to 3 1/2 games behind Milwaukee knocked off the Giants 10-3 behind Bob Hendley's seven-hitter and homers by Hank Aaron and Lou Johnson.

Bob Friend posted his 15th victory as fourth-place Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2. Jim Campbell's ninth inning homer gave Houston a 2-2 decision, almost the entire 1961 season on the disabled list and showing little promise in spring training.

The doctors had given up on Roebuck, but Roebuck hadn't. He worked out at the Arizona Instruc-

Blasingame's double, a wild pitch and a single by Vada Pinson. Reds' starter Joey Jay had a one-hit shutout going into the ninth, hit Willie Davis' sixth inning single the only Dodger hit. But Frank Howard stroked a two-out single and Duke Snider followed with a triple that tied it.

Roebuck Allows 2 Hits

Jay (20-11) and Roebuck, who allowed only two hits, matched serves until the last of the 13th when Tommy Davis opened with a single. Ron Fairly bunted him to second and Lee Walls blooped a double, but Davis was forced to hold at third. Snider was intentionally walked before Roseboro tagged the game-winner.

Friend (15-12) was coasting with a five-hitter when he gave up a walk and a single to start the ninth, bringing on Elroy Face. The Pirates put it out of reach

Braves Pound Out 16 Hits In 10-3 Win Over Giants

Hank Aaron, Lou Johnson Connect for Homers; Hendley Coasts to 10th Mound Victory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— The Milwaukee Braves apparently are continuing to follow a pattern they set early in the 1962 National League season.

The pattern provides for the Braves to get only a few hits in one game and then come back with many blows the next day.

The San Francisco-Milwaukee game Wednesday followed the big-hit program. The Braves pounded out 16 hits to trounce the Giants 10-3 as Hank Aaron and Lou Johnson smashed out home runs.

While the Braves exploded against several San Francisco hurlers, Milwaukee's southpaw Bob Hendley coasted to his 10th victory against as many defeats. He yielded seven hits, six of them in the last four innings.

Until Bob Nieman and Orlando Cepeda homered in the sixth Hendley had a shutout with only one safe hit against him. He held the Giants to only two base-runners through the first five innings.

Milwaukee, meanwhile, batted through its complete order three times in the first four innings to build a 9-0 lead. Aaron belted his 36th home run of the year in leading off the third inning and sending southpaw Billy O'Dell to the showers with his 12th defeat against 15 victories.

Lew Carpenter Top Handyman For Packers

Has Played at Five Different Spots This Season

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Like the visitor said at Packer practice the other day, "Who's that No. 33 000 bonus right-hander Bob Gari, playing quarterback?"

That's Lew Carpenter! He only worked. O'Dell had been charged plays QB when the Bays practice with two runs in as many in defense. His QB partner is Paul Hornung.

Each runs an offensive team which uses enemy plays, giving the Packer's defense a "feel" of the next opponent.

Carpenter isn't the worst un-nally slowed the Milwaukee bats, known quarterback in the league, but not until he had given up a Lew has no illusions about playing single and a homer to Henry the position—for real, but like he Aaron.

The seven-year veteran who saw sixth was Haver Kuenn's leadoff action with the Lions and Browns now plays five positions—for real, which makes him the top handy-man in the league.

Others at End

"I guess I've been at all of them this year. Let's see, both backs in the All-Star game and the others at end, yep, all five," Lew noted yesterday.

That's Carpenter's way of saying he plays behind the two running backs (fullback and halfback) and the three ends (flanker, left end and right end or tight end).

Always in condition, Carpenter was the Packer's rushing bright spot in the All-Star game. He was buzzing around Elijah Pitts and Ted Allen, who were being buzzed around by Elmer Riddle and Gary Knapp.

He saw spot action behind Max Baer in the second round and had Gene Mottie, Ron Kramer and Gary Knapp in the next two games of the bout.

and then, against the Bears Satur-day night, Boyd Dowler went out for a mandatory eight-count in briefly. Carpenter came forth the third round and caught a touchdown pass, and caught a touchdown pass, quick lefts and a right cross.

Zora Folley KO's Al Gonzales In Fifth Round

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)— Zora Folley, the world's third-ranked heavyweight, knocked out Al Gonzales of Odessa, Tex., in 1:55 of the fifth round Wednesday night.

Folley weighed 200, Gonzales 191. A crowd of about 2,000 spot in the All-Star game. He was buzzing around Elijah Pitts and Ted Allen, who were being buzzed around by Elmer Riddle and Gary Knapp.

He saw spot action behind Max Baer in the second round and had Gene Mottie, Ron Kramer and Gary Knapp in the next two games of the bout.

and then, against the Bears Satur-day night, Boyd Dowler went out for a mandatory eight-count in briefly. Carpenter came forth the third round and caught a touchdown pass, and caught a touchdown pass, quick lefts and a right cross.

Foxes Suffer 4-2 Setback in Game Shortened by Rain

Retain Midwest League Lead; Player Appreciation Tilt Tonight

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Foxes were bumped by one second division team (Decatur) but received a much needed assist from another Cedar Rapids here Wednesday night and retained their one-game lead in the Midwest League standings.

The Decatur Commodores rose up to hand the locals a 4-2 loss in a rain-shortened contest at Goodland Field. The game was called with the Foxes batting in the bottom half of the eighth inning in a two-strike count on the frame's leadoff hitter, Don Eng-bers.

The rain also came to the aid of the Foxes at another location — Waterloo. The Hawks were deprived of an opportunity to gain a half-game when rain cancelled out their contest with Burlington. They still could gain that half game tonight when they meet the Bees in a doubleheader.

Dump Angels

Cedar Rapids proved to be the spoiler as far as Quad-Cities is concerned as they dumped the Angels twice, 5-1 and 4-0.

The Wednesday results still gives the Foxes a one game lead but this time over Waterloo, the team that invades Foxes (and the three games starting Friday night).

Decatur and the Foxes will have another "go-round" tonight in a "Player Appreciation Night" affair starting at 8 p.m.

Allan Riffe is scheduled to hurl for the Foxes and either Lou De-Mar or knuckleballer Barry Hantzinger will go for Decatur.

Eddie Watt was the victim

Wednesday evening as he suffered his 10th loss of the year against as many victories. He was charged with four runs but only two were earned.

Two Singles

Decatur scored in the first on two singles and an error. The Foxes came back to tie in the second on a double by Cal Ripken and a single by Dan Markowski.

The Commodores put the affair in the proverbial ice box in the third on a walk to Bob Fowell, single by John Price, and a triple by Bob Wardle.

The Foxes came back with what proved to be the final run

Group Moves to Get NBA Team For Cleveland

Young Businessmen Have Verbal Contract With Jerry Lucas

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two young Cleveland businessmen who are novices in the world of sports have a verbal contract for the services of All-American Jerry Lucas and hope to bring a National Basketball Association franchise to the city in 1963.

Howard Marks, 33, head of an advertising agency, announced Wednesday that Lucas had agreed to a 3-year contract which would give the three-time All-American from Ohio State "well over $140,000."

In another development, George Steinbrenner announced that his Pipers will not play this season. Lucas held a 2-year, $60,000 contract with the Pipers, but he became a free agent when Steinbrenner failed to get American Basketball League the club into the NBA.

Steinbrenner blamed money problems for the loss of the Cleveland franchise in the ABL. He said the Pipers lost close to $200,000 last season, when they won the league championship, and "we realized it was hopeless to continue."

Buy Arena

With Marks in the venture is Carl Glickman, 36, a real estate investor and developer.

They also are dickering to buy the Cleveland Arena and had tried to help Steinbrenner save the NBA franchise he had obtained earlier by offering to put up the money. But the NBA declared the Cleveland franchise defunct when Steinbrenner failed to meet financial requirements for admission to the league.

Marks said he didn't consider the agreement with Lucas a gamble "because we consider Jerry a bright young man who can help us in several fields. He can help second straight tilt in a 3 game and in the establishment of a solid basketball program here."

He said Lucas would make public appearances, work on ticket sales, scout players and help organize a team for 1961, assuming Cleveland gets an NBA franchise.

Lucas, drafted by both the Pipers and the Cincinnati Royals of the NBA rejected an offer from the Royals.

Pistons' Gene Shue Traded to Knicks For Imhoff, Cash

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran Detroit Pistons guard Gene Shue was traded Wednesday to the New York Knicks for center Darrell Imhoff and an undisclosed amount of cash.

In announcing the trade, Pistons' President Fred Zollner said, "Imhoff is young, has two years experience in the pros and offers the Pistons insurance at the center position."

Shue leaves the Pistons with a record as the club's all-time leading scorer with 7,974 points in 446 games for an 18.1 average.

He had been with the Pistons for six of his eight pro seasons.

In the consolation game, Northwest Supply blanked Dag's 3-0.

Bleiers scored three runs in the first inning, one in the second, Hoffmann, and John Otto doubled, two in the third and five in the fourth in the scoring Heinritz.

The winners got their final run in the fourth, when Otto hit his second double and scored on an error by Dag's shortstop, Bill Hopkins.

The win was Arlin Burt's third shutout of the season. He allowed only three hits and walked four, with three strikeouts. Loser Ray Reuter, of Dag's struck out three with five hits and two walks.

Third Death of Year Reported In Prep Football

14-Year-Old Dies of Heart Attack in Hamilton, Mass.

ENGLEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — A 14-year-old football player for St. Cecilia High School collapsed and died of a heart attack Monday after a practice session at the Carmelite Seminary in Hamilton, Mass., it was disclosed Wednesday.

St. Cecilia Coach Ralph Cavallucci said the boy, Edward Lucas, collapsed in the locker room after complaining of tightness in his legs. At Hamilton, Medical Examiner Dr. William C. Wigglesworth said death was due to a cardiac malfunction from secondary heart prostration.

Cavallucci said Lucas, a 5-foot-10, 165-pound sophomore guard, collapsed shortly after the Monday afternoon drill. A morning session also had been held.

The New Jersey State Inter-scholastic Athletic Association, of which St. Cecilia is a member, prohibits a team from starting football practice before Sept. 1.

Out of State

Instances of early practice or "skull" sessions in the past have resulted in a number of schools being placed on probation. However, a spokesman said he could recall no occasion on which an entire team went out of the state to practice.

Lucas' death was the third reported this month in high school football practice.

James T. Pfeifferberger, 14, of Xenia, Ohio, died of a brain hemorrhage suffered during practice with the John Carroll High School squad Aug. 21. A day later, Andy Yurkovich, 15, of Gillespie, Ill. High School died after a morning workout.

Metreveli Becomes 1st Soviet to Take Tennis Match in U. S.

Says He Was 'Plenty Scared' as He Faced Eastern Youth

BY ED CORRIGAN Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — "I was scared when I first got out there...plenty scared. But then after a while, I wasn't so nervous and by the end of the match, I felt fine."

That's how 17-year-old Alexander Metreveli, the first player from the Soviet Union ever to win a tennis match in the United States, described his feelings today after winning his qualifying match and earning a spot in the National Tennis Championships. The tournament proper gets under way Friday.

Metreveli, shaky at the start, downed Bronson Van Wyck of Montclair, N.J., 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2 in one of the two qualifying matches played at the rain-drenched West Side Tennis Club Wednesday. David Asz of Israel turned back Ed Turville, Jr., of St. Petersburg, Fla., in the other, 6-4, 3-6, 8-6, 1-6, 6-4.

"I thought the turning point in the match came when I started returning Van Wyck's service better," said Metreveli through an interpreter. He speaks English, but said he can express himself better in Russian.

No Grass Courts

"We don't have any grass courts in Russia," he added, "so I take some time getting the feel. But with a little practice, I think I'd like them better than any others. Actually, I have played on grass before at Wimbledon. But there is a difference in the bounce of the ball there and here and that's something else I had to master."

Metreveli plays the standard game that all the youngsters follow these days—big service and rush to the net for the kill. Van Wyck, the fifth ranking junior in the East, has a good service, and so long as he kept it under control, he did all right. But Metreveli solved it and that was the match.

Beat Unranked Player

Actually, few questions were answered on the quality of Metreveli's play. Van Wyck, also 17, holds no national ranking at all. On the other hand, Metreveli did beat Ken Fletcher, a pretty good journeyman Australian, in Moscow recently.

"He's got to learn to return service better," said Soviet Coach Semon Beliz-German. "He also is weak on his backhand."

"Oh, I don't know about that," chirped Metreveli. "I thought I did pretty good returning service against Van Wyck."

Asz, Israel's third-ranking player, had a long, uphill fight against Turville, 10th ranking junior in the country and son of the president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Another half-dozen qualifying matches were started, but when the rains came, they were put over until today.

Cedar Rapids Hands Angels Two Defeats

John Nance and Karl Elmstrom hurled Cedar Rapids to a double victory over Quad-Cities in the Midwest League Wednesday night.

Nance limited the Angels to only one hit in the first game to chalk up a 5-1 victory while Elmstrom scattered four hits to grab a 4-0 shutout in the nightcap.

Burlington at Waterloo was rained out but Clinton defeated the Dubuque Dodgers twice, 4-0 and 5-2, and Quincy and the Dubuque Packers split. The Jets won the first game 5-2 and the Packers came back to pound out a 21-2 win in the second game.

Gros, Blaine Enjoy Pressing Bay Veterans

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Stars may be born in some ways of life, but not with Green Bay's National Football League champions.

Young rookies trying to unseat Jim Taylor, Jerry Kramer or Fuzzy Thurston face a task somewhat like sending a man into space. It's possible, but it can't be done overnight.

Despite being on the short end of the long odds, fullback Earl Gros, the Packers' No. 1 draft pick, and offensive guard Ed Blaine, a second round selection, are enjoying themselves in pressing their established rivals.

"I'm just trying to learn the system," said Gros, a 21-year-old hardhitting speedster from Louisiana State, Taylor's alma mater. "I don't think I'm capable or ready yet. But I'm learning fast."

Blaine, a 230 pounder who "prepped" at the University of Missouri, has the unenviable job of trying to win a starting berth from Thurston, an all-NFL choice, or Kramer, who lost his all-league status when injured in midseason last year.

"I don't mind it a bit," Blaine said. "When I came up I knew I'd be playing behind the two best guards in football. And I'm looking forward to playing behind them for a year—or two. I'm only 21 and have plenty of time. But you can bet I'll be giving it everything I've got every minute."

How does a young fellow feel when drafted by a championship club and knows the job competition ahead?

"I was sort of disappointed," said Gros, who packs some 225 pounds on a 6-3 frame.

"With Jim and Paul Hornung on the club, I didn't think I had much of a chance. However, I saw the advantages of being in the National League, especially with the champion, even as a reserve. I signed a few days after the Packers won the title—and I'm certainly glad I did."

Blaine said he was "somewhat elated—in fact very happy" when he learned he had been picked by Green Bay.

"I didn't expect to be drafted by the Packers," Blaine said. "I considered it a real challenge and thought right along I might have a chance even though they have such great guards as Kramer and Thurston."

In other games, Vandenberg Electric topped Gaffney's Cleaners, 6-5 and Dud's Inn thumped Sue's Bar, 8-2.

Hank Peerenboom and Rick Polman each drove in four runs, Peerenboom's coming on a grand slam, in the Van Elzen victory. Winning pitcher, Jim Nirschl, also had a 4-bagger. It was the fourth straight league championship for Van Elzen's.

Gaffney's Cleaners out-hit Vandenberg's, 13-9, but the latter posted a one-run win. Carl Lemmers had a home run for the losers. Ron Hammen was the winning pitcher and Tom Reider took the loss.

Dud's Inn handed Sue's Bar its 13 setback in 15 games and the win enabled Dud's to finish in a second place tie. Ken Dollevet was the losing pitcher and Vern Friebel was the winner. Elmer Kobs hit a homer for Dud's.

Little League Baseball Is in World Not Open to Adults

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Little League baseball is played in a 12-year-old world that no adult can ever really penetrate.

It is a world of sudden crying jags, which disappear as quickly as they come and for little evident reason. There is brutal honesty and a deep-felt tenderness toward the other residents and a crisis every half-hour where life is either too much to bear or too good to be true.

When the best baseball players in the world for their age square off on a diamond scaled down to 12-year-old proportions, adults are allowed to watch, but not really to enter into the proceedings.

Twelve-year-old boys waste little time on the formalities of the older world.

If a Little Leaguer tells you that another one is a better ball player than he is, don't argue with him.

He knows, and there is no shame in him. That comes at a later age. He will tell the other Little Leaguer the same thing.

He sees no disgrace in losing 22-1, or winning by the same in Crawford, Grant, Jackson, score, although the adults in the Marquette, Oconto, Sauk and lands may cringe at the sight and worry about the scars, such a beating must leave on his psyche. Obviously, it doesn't leave any. He may talk baseball all day, or he may talk about the sky, or frogs or Indian head pennies.

There will be a crisis every half-hour in his world, but his memory span appears to be shorter than yours. You can't be sure, and you'll never know. You can watch, but Sawyer County, Bayfield County you can't come in. You're not welcome.

Robinson, 42, meets Downes in London Sept. 25. Downes is British middleweight title holder.

"Downes is a good rugged boy," Robinson told a shipboard news conference. "He gives a good account of himself in the ring. But I'm still hoping to win that crown just once more."

Trout Season Nearing Close; Muskies Active

MADISON (AP)—Last chance trout fishermen have been advised by the Wisconsin Conservation Department to try streams 22-1, or winning by the same in Crawford, Grant, Jackson, score, although the adults in the Marquette, Oconto, Sauk and lands may cringe at the sight and worry about the scars, such a beating must leave on his psyche. Obviously, it doesn't leave any. He may talk baseball all day, or he may talk about the sky, or frogs or Indian head pennies.

There will be a crisis every half-hour in his world, but his memory span appears to be shorter than yours. You can't be sure, and you'll never know. You can watch, but Sawyer County, Bayfield County you can't come in. You're not welcome.

Teen-Ager Advances to Golf Quarter-Finals

Co-Favorites Also Win in Women's National Amateur

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—They laughed when 17-year-old Annie is, Wednesday, in walloping Sue Baker routed Curtis Cup veteran Ann Casey Johnstone in the first round of the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship Monday. They aren't laughing now that this pretty little Tennessee blonde has calmly played her way into the quarter-finals of the national says it's probably the best back-tournament, with a golf game to-back rounds of golf she's ever that seems geared to pars and more pars, no matter the opponent.

While co-favorites Anne Quast Decker and JoAnne Gunderson have been moving relentlessly toward a predicted meeting in Saturday's 36-hole windup, young Miss Baker has quietly romped through one match after the other at the 6,161-yard, par 36-36-72 Country Club of Rochester course.

Today, she goes against 21-year-old Marcia McLachlan of Danbury, Conn., and St. Petersburg, Fla. in the "kiddie" match of the quarter-finals. She will be favored to advance to the semi-finals against the winner of the quarter-final between Mrs. Decker, the defending champion from Marysville, Wash., and Pat Hahn, the five-times Delaware queen from Wilmington.

Two Over Par

Withholding On Dividends Turned Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has turned down President Kennedy's proposal for a withholding system to wipe out tax evasion on dividend and interest income.

The defeat had been conceded in advance by administration leaders struggling to put the watered-down tax revision bill through the Senate.

But the size of the vote Wednesday against withholding—66-20—was a surprise even to the group of Democrats who tried to keep it in the bill. Only 19 Democrats and one Republican, John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, supported the President's 34 Democratic and 32 Republican opponents.

There's a chance the proposal will be salvaged in conference because the House included it in passing the measure in March. But the strongest advocates of the plan said their hope is slim.

The Treasury estimated the dividend and interest withholding plan would bring in about $900 million a year in taxes now evaded by failure to report about $5 billion of such income.

This was to be the biggest item in paying for the major feature of the bill—an investment credit to spur U.S. business to buy new machinery and equipment.

Without withholding, the bill is estimated to mean a substantial annual deficit to the Treasury.

Cleanup Started After Big Storm

CAMERON, La. (AP) — Unhindered by its latest battle with the elements, this low-lying coastal town starts today to clean up after a death-dealing windstorm and high waters.

It was Cameron's third severe onslaught by storms and swirling waters in less than five years.

Official casualty list of Tuesday night's storm shows two dead and 30 injured. Eighteen were hospitalized. The Red Cross reported 125 families affected by the storm. One home was demolished and 16 house trailers were destroyed or severely damaged.

Without withholding, the bill is estimated to mean a substantial annual deficit to the Treasury.

Plot to Serve As Both Park, School Site

Oshkosh Land to Be Named After Red Arrow Unit

OSHKOSH — A 32-acre plot of city-owned land will be dedicated for school and park purposes, the common council decided Wednesday night, with at least the park portion to be named "Red Arrow Memorial Park."

The dedicating resolution will be passed on at next Wednesday's formal council session. The site is at Pollock Memorial pool and borders on Sawyer Creek in the new high school area.

No designation was made as to how much of the site would be for a park or how much for the school. Council members indicated it probably would be a joint facility with the park serving as part of the school's campus.

The Winnebago County Chapter of the Red Arrow Veterans Organization had requested the council to change the name of South Park to Red Arrow Park but the council turned down the request and substituted the proposal for a new park at the Sawyer Creek site.

The veterans group accepted the change.

School officials then indicated they will need a new junior high school in that area within the next two years.

The site will be dedicated as the Red Arrow Park Monday by 32nd Division veterans who will be holding their national convention in Oshkosh this weekend.

The council also is expected to give approval next Wednesday to a resolution creating a Development Authority for the city's proposed urban renewal program.

Creating the Redevelopment Authority is the first step toward getting federal funds for urban renewal.

City Mgr. Ray Harbaugh said the council could name itself as the authority. The council will then give Harbaugh authority to submit the proposed program for approval.

The city is seeking funds to redevelop the area between the state college and the Fox River with the possibility the college may buy the cleared land for expansion.

Thief Escapes, Victim Was Taking Shower

BALTIMORE (AP) — Herbert Herman's cleanliness helped a thief make a clean getaway.

Herman gave chase Wednesday when he saw a youth take a $200 ring and a wallet containing $94 from his bedroom.

When the thief ran out the back door, Herman stopped short, remembering he had been taking a shower.

Fruit Juice Taken From CNW Boxcar

The Chicago North Western Railroad has told Appleton police that a boxcar of breakfast juices was broken into and one case was missing.

The break-in occurred sometime Wednesday and was discovered when workmen found a door seal on the boxcar was broken.

Missing is one case of orange juice and two large cans of orange juice from another case. The boxcar was parked beside the Shannon Wholesale warehouse, 1726 Ballard Road.

Organizer of Laundry, Cleaning Business Dies

Mrs. John Hanus, 1627 N. Erie St., one of the organizers of Peoples Laundry and Ayrmore Dry Cleaners, died at 1 a.m. today at her home after a short illness. She was 77.

Born April 29, 1885 in the Town of Harrison, Calumet County, she had lived in Appleton since 1920. She also was one of the original members of St. Therese parish. She was a member of the Christian Mothers and the Third Order of St. Francis.

Mrs. Hanus is survived by her husband, two daughters, two sons, a brother, eight grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Services will be at 9:30 a.m. Saturday from St. Therese Church. Burial will be in Sacred Heart Cemetery, Sherwood.

Press in Cuba Controlled by Castro Regime

American Reporters Few, Hampered in Getting News Out

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Facts about what goes on in Cuba are hard to come by these days.

An important factor is that the press in Cuba is fully controlled by the Fidel Castro regime. Every newspaper working for a Cuban paper knows what he must and must not write. The result is a sterile press that usually throws little light on what goes on.

Even so, statements in Havana newspapers often provide indications of basic situations existing in such problems as housing and the food supply, and U.S. reporters can follow up these leads to some extent.

The number of such reporters is strictly limited. The Associated Press, for example, has only one non-Cuban reporter working in Cuba. Applications for visas to send in other reporters are turned down or ignored.

Only a token number of visiting correspondents are allowed each month—usually one or two. Most of these represent newspapers or radio and television networks. El Mundo of Havana said recently that "North American newsmen have had and have free access to our country." This is not true.

The correspondents able to work in Cuba find most official doors closed to them. When they do have news to report, they often cannot get it out of Havana. Long distance calls are frequently cut

'Most Beautiful' Bridge Gets Deck

New York's George Washington Span Gets Life With New Level

NEW YORK (AP) — Historians say the world's first bridge was built some ago when a primitive man felled a tree across a chasm.

Since then many bridges have been suspended, swung and arched over the inaccessible to ease the passage of man. But few have had the majesty — both in style and setting — of the mighty George Washington Bridge.

"The most beautiful bridge in the world" was what the great French architect Le Corbusier called it.

It spans the broad Hudson River between New York, with its zig-zag skyline, and the green brown New Jersey Palisades, those long-lived descendants of the ice age.

For 31 years it has stood as a modern-day miracle of steel, concrete and human ingenuity. Now it is about to be given new life.

The George Washington's broad, eight-laned back has borne 575 million vehicular crossings since its dedication on Oct. 25, 1931, by then Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and Gov. Morgan F. Larson of New Jersey. It now handles 38 million vehicles a year.

That back is about to be broadened with the addition of a six-lane lower level.

Four Years to Build

The new level, which took four years to build and cost twice as much as the original bridge, will be dedicated at mid-river Wednesday by the present governors of New York and New Jersey, Nelson A. Rockefeller and Richard J. Hughes.

The cost of the expansion has been $145 million, compared with the $60 million for the original bridge. This over-all investment in excess of $200 million will make the George Washington the most expensive bridge in the world, and its 14 lanes will make it the largest in terms of capacity.

A lower level — for trains or automobiles — was provided in the original plans by the designer,

Henry Druding, resident engineer who has supervised the second-deck project says the bridge has been known to sway as much as 30 inches in a heavy gale.

But that was before the second deck was added, and the new steel and concrete are expected to add to the bridge's stability.

Druding's old boss, designer Ammann, now 83, has served as consultant on expansion of the bridge he designed in 1927. He is also the designer of the Verrazano-Narrows Bridge which is under construction across New York harbor from Brooklyn to Staten Island.

Broadway Fall Season Holds Much Promise

Top Theatre Veterans Returning To Legitimate Stage This Season

BY JINGO

In less than three weeks the Broadway theater season will open with more promise than has been seen for several seasons. More shows are planned and the array of stars is brighter than usual.

The season will not, of course, even approach the golden days; but it is a marvelous parade with names that roll on the tongue and that have rolled there for a long time.

The name with the longest Broadway pedigree has a dual role in this year's prospectus. Ruth Gordon. She will open as the star of "What's Cooking?" on Dec. 11. It is a comedy she wrote. Broadway started its long acquaintanceship with Miss Gordon back in 1915 when she appeared in Maude Adams' company of "Peter Pan."

She also will have a special interest in another new property. Garson Kanin has written a play he'll direct. Kanin is her husband.

Bowling Leagues To Elect Officers

FREMONT — Officers heading the Fremont Men's Bowling Leagues will be elected before bowling hours in the Classic League Sept. 10 and the Major League Sept. 11.

Officers will select three nominees for each office. Ballots will be circulated and collected preceding the bowling.

Preparing the slate of candidates are Gene Redemann, president; Leander Arndt, vice president; Edwin Rupno, secretary; and Dr. Walter Neuschaefer, treasurer.

The two leagues will have four rounds of bowling for 26 weeks at Radtke's Recreation, Wauwatega. Rolloffs between the two leading teams at the end of the season will determine the grand champion team.

There Will be 20 Pens at the new dog shelter, but work on the pens isn't complete and the ceiling is unfinished. The new building will be heated and adequately ventilated, and there will be plenty of storage space for food supplies and equipment in a room at the rear of the pen area.

Dogs at the Outagamie County Humane Society Shelter can't be cared for adequately. Mrs. Jessie Erlanson, shelter manager, says, describing the quarters shown above. Society members hope that during their next fund drive in the fall, area residents will show they recognize the community service the society performs.

The Present Humane society shelter is in very bad repair and the facility is inadequate for the dog traffic handled each week. Several dogs are forced to share each pen for lack of space and there is no separate section to isolate sick animals. The 10 pens pictured here will have to be moved to the new shelter because the society lacks funds.

School to Open With Two New Instructors
BRILLION — St. Mary Catholic School, Brillion, will open for the school season Sept. 4. The school's two new teachers are Sister M. Anicetus, who will be the principal and will teach sixth and seventh grades and Mrs. John Pfluger, who will teach second and third grades.
Total enrollment of the school is 254 students.

Chilton Clerk Announces Absentee Voting
CHILTON — Chilton voters who anticipate being away from the city during voting hours Sept. 11, the primary election, now may cast absentee ballots, Clerk Arthur Pohland has announced.
The absentee ballots may be marked at the clerk's city hall office anytime during regular office hours until 4 p.m. Sept. 10, the day preceding the election.
Mailed requests for ballots must be in the clerk's hands before the close of office hours Sept. 7. Telephoned requests for ballots will not be honored, Pohland said.
Regular age and residential requirements — 21 years old, a year in the state and 10 days in the voting precinct.

Driver Hurt as Car Hits Pole
WAUPACA — Duane W. Filkins, 47, Marinette, suffered bumps and bruises about 10:30 p.m. Saturday when the car he was driving went off State 54, five miles east of Waupaca, and struck a telephone post.
Damages to the car, according to the sheriff's department, were estimated at $500. Filkins was taken to the Waupaca Memorial Hospital. He told sheriff's deputy, John Bonnell, he swerved to avoid hitting a dog while driving east.
Two cars were damaged about 1:40 a.m. Sunday in an accident on State 22, three miles west of Waupaca near the Windmill. Michael W. Copps, 23, Stevens Point, drove out of the parking lot and collided with Darwin B. Tevebaugh, 23, route 7, Green Bay, who was driving east.

Humane Society Unable to Do Job

New Shelter Facilities Better, But Monetary Assistance Needed

BY GEORGE ALOTRICO
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A car goes barreling at high speeds down a country road somewhere in Outagamie County. A farmer watches from his porch. As the car passes something is hurled from the car window. It looks like a dog, the farmer thinks. Impossible. But he goes to see anyway.

At the Outagamie County Humane Society Shelter, 4000 Weimer Court, Mrs. Jessie Erlanson, are the members of the 32-year-old humane society and the few who give generous donations supporting the group's work.

Mrs. Erlanson, alone at the shelter, must drop what she's doing, lock-up and drive out to pick up the dog. But she is glad to help, she loves animals and Mackville on a plot of land dedicated to assisting them in any way she can.

Little can be done for this animal, however, and back at the shelter Mrs. Erlanson calls the vet to come and put the dog to sleep.

Almost Mockery
About 40 to 50 lost, strayed, injured, sick and unwanted dogs are handled at the shelter every week. Conditions are overcrowded and inadequate and there is no isolation building for sick animals. Each pen is filled with dogs, sick or healthy. The fee-deficit through private contributions must be tied to a fence. A new membership drive is planned this fall. Any nominal donation entitles the donor to shelter also provides temporary quarters for someone's lost dog.

or Mrs. Erlanson the word 'humane' is almost a mockery. Appleton residents can be proud of many things, but their animal shelter isn't one of them. It is difficult to believe that people could know about this decaying eyesore and stand by as the situation gets worse.

There are some citizens who have been concerned for years about the plight of the country's forgotten animals. These people outside runway also are planned. A surprising number of dogs are left at the shelter by families that are moving to a new area and feel it isn't wise to take their pet along. Many dogs, complete with papers, are made available in this way.

Other dogs arrive at the shelter in less fortunate ways. Mrs. Erlanson says that often when she arrives at the shelter in the morning, she finds dogs that were left tied up near the pens by unknown persons. Some of the dogs are tied so tightly with choke collars that she has to cut the collar off.

Ready in 3 Weeks
Fred C. Heinemann, president of the society, said that the shelter will probably be ready in about three weeks. Heating facilities and a ceiling still have to be installed. When the shelter is completed it will cost between $10,000 to $12,000. The society are handled at the shelter every week. Conditions are overcrowded and inadequate and there is no isolation building for sick animals. Each pen is filled with dogs, sick or healthy. The fee-deficit through private contributions must be tied to a fence. A new membership drive is planned this fall. Any nominal donation entitles the donor to shelter also provides temporary quarters for someone's lost dog.

Through no fault of the society membership. "We hope that we will get much more support from the public once the new facility is established," she said.

Few dogs are adopted under the present system. The sordid condition of the shelter doesn't help to sell the animals. Many of the dogs have papers and many would make fine watchdogs or hunting dogs, but at the end of seven days, if a dog remains unclaimed, state law says it must be put to sleep.

15 A Month
Mrs. Bower hopes that an average of 15 dogs will be adopted each month under the new system. At the shelter there will be an attractive waiting room where one dog at a time will be shown to a prospective 'parent.' Records will be kept so the buyer knows the dog's complete history. An isolation building and outside runway also are planned at the new shelter.

Some owners, she says, even cruelly hurl the dogs over the 10 foot fence to get them into the pens.

The dog shelter performs a valuable community service. The number of stray dogs in the city is greatly reduced or eliminated making it safer for children. The shelter also provides temporary quarters for someone's lost dog.

Chilton Police Hold Carnival Worker Sought by Manitowoc
CHILTON — William Walker, 22, a carnival worker helping set up the county fair midway here, was picked up and held for Manitowoc County authorities Wednesday by Police Sgt. Dan Albedyll.

Albedyll said Walker was being sought by Manitowoc County for driving after revocation and also for questioning in an assault and hit and run incident at Collins.

Rural Iola Man Hurt In Auto Accident
WAUPACA — Keith A. Wasrud, 21, route 2, Iola, cut his lower lip about 1:50 a.m. Saturday when his car left Lake Bear Road, four miles southeast of Ogdensburg county police reported.

Wasrud's car was rounding a curve and went into the north ditch on the right side of the road and crossed the road and went into the south ditch. Damages to the car were estimated at $90.

and a place where dangerous animals can be isolated temporarily before being put to sleep.

Meet Budget
The society would like to see a greater membership in the future so they can meet their annual budget. Estimated expenses for next year total $6,300. The only income comes from the city, $3,000 annually, and the county, $1,000 annually. The only way the society can make up the balance is through membership contributions and the sale of dogs.

Under the new system hopes are that the income from both these sources will increase greatly.

Problem of Aged Far From Solved

Sweden Short of Nursing Homes, Qualified Helpers

BY WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
Chicago Daily News Service

STOCKHOLM — Even good old Sweden, fair haired boy of all the democratic welfare states, has failed to beat the problem of how to care for its old folks, particularly those who need medical attention.

Take this from a fellow whose dear old Swedish aunt, who died two years ago, spent five years in Betaniasstranas nursing home in Stockholm after suffering a stroke. The average cost was more than $10 a day.

Even Ali Berggren, the Swedish social security expert on the problem, admits that the country is short of hospital and nursing home beds for the aged sick and that it is also desperately short of people qualified as visiting nurses and home helpers.

"We have exhausted the supply of 40,000 home helpers who are available to help the aged who do not enter institutions," he says. "We also need medical helpers, people who can give a minimum of medical assistance to the aged ill who do not enter institutions."

More Homes Needed

Here, as in neighboring Norway, there is clearly a vast need for more nursing homes for elderly people.

Sweden plans to accommodate about 10 per cent of all people over 70 in institutions, which means 4 to 5 per cent of its entire population of 7,000,000 plus. According to Berggren it now has 1,360 homes with 49,000 places. Of these, 720 have been built since 1946.

Many of the old people's homes both here and in Norway are lovely places, with all modern conveniences and so well designed that they constantly make the fanciest architectural trade journals. But there just aren't enough of them. Since the whole policy of the Swedish government, as well as of the Norwegian government, is to encourage elderly people to remain at home, the lack of visiting nurses is even more serious.

Problem of "Gentel"

Here, as in the United States, the problem of the "gentel" or the people is the toughest of all. They resist going to institutions where they say, is that the state generally banks its own insurance system and the premium money amassed by the system "really doesn't exist."

They have answered this objection by giving supervision of the huge sums paid under the super-annuation scheme — 2 billion kronor ($400,000,000) in three years — to the three independent boards representing large firms, small firms and governmental groups. These boards decide how the money shall be invested. In practice they have invested only 4 per cent of their money in government bonds. Another 55 per cent is in housing, 21 per cent in private enterprise and 13 per cent in municipal loans. The rest is in other areas.

"Real Money" Used

Thus, say the Swedes, means that the system is being run with "real money" on a strictly businesslike basis.

The comparative dimensions of the old age problem in Sweden and the United States are indicated by the following figures:

In Sweden, in 1960, people over 65 constituted 11.9 per cent of the population while in the United States they made up only 8.7 per cent of the total. In 1970 the figure for Sweden is expected to be 14.1 per cent while in the United States it will be 9 per cent.

Life expectancy for a boy in Sweden in 1960 was 71 years, for a girl 75 years. In the United States, in 1958, a newly born baby boy could expect to live to 66.4 years of age while a baby girl's life expectancy was 73.

The truth seems to be that the problem is unbeatable. But Sweden feels that it has at least made a sizeable effort to reduce the problem to the minimum possible proportions.

Officials and experts will feel a little better about the whole thing when the problem of "home visitors" has been whittled down to size and when some of those nursing homes for the aged that exist largely in their dreams have actually been built.

City Attorney Hits Action on Bridge

Return of Menasha Petition Just Pusseyfooting, Steffens Says

MENASHA.—Recent State Highway Commission action to return the City of Menasha's petition asking a bridge over Little Lake Butte des Morts now bears the title "pusseyfooting."

City Atty. Richard J. Steffens, who used the word, wonders whether the state agency is fighting a delaying action on the city's request. Steffens says the statutes call for a mandatory public hearing on the bridge matter within 60 days after filing a petition.

Chairman Harvey Grasse of the commission says the original petition was defective and the city officials have been asked to rewrite the petition in compliance with Section 84.11 of the statutes, dealing with intrastate bridges.

No Response
Steffens says neither the July 3 petition passed by the Common Council nor any letter about its deficiencies has been received by the city. He says Grasse has told him over the telephone that the word "need" must be in the petition.

"If they want in the petition the word 'need,' I'll put it in with big black ink letters," he stated. "Apparently the commission hasn't had a petition like this from a municipality in modern times. I think he's being unduly technical."
"It's a seldom-used statute. The commission feels it will put bridges where it wants."
"We pointed out the need and expressed it on the part of the council, the regional planning commission and the highway commissions of the three counties," Winnebago, Outagamie and Calumet.

2 Civic Groups Supported by Labor Council

MENASHA.—Two civic organizations — the Neenah-Menasha Community Chest and the Winnebago County Guidance Center — received the support of delegates to the Neenah-Menasha Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

The labor group voted to support the 1962 fund campaign of the Community Chest, with this statement by Council Pres. Rufin Skiba:

"It is unfortunate that the Chest budget is increased each year. However, this is necessary in order to help those who need assistance. Therefore, the council is urging all local unions and their members to participate in this worthwhile program by joining bridge. They probably will say the '20-minute-a-month' plan, or to make contributions through other means."

Last July 16, Grasse said state approval of the new bridge, proposed for Ninth Street west to Highway 41, would be contingent on studies by the Fox River Valley Regional Planning Commission, leading to a master plan for future transportation facilities in the Fox Cities.

The city attorney disagrees with the need for the regional unit study.
Since Grasse made the statement, however, the planning commission has made its report, including a strong recommendation for the bridge Menasha is seeking across the lake.

Hearing
While the state agency would be required to hold a public hearing and to make a finding on the bridge, Steffens contends, "That doesn't say it will grant us the worthwhile program by joining bridge. They probably will say the '20-minute-a-month' plan, or to make contributions through other means."

Family at Winnebago Fair

Fire Destroys Larsen Home; Estimate Loss Over $26,000

LARSEN — Loss estimated at more than $26,000 resulted late Wednesday afternoon when the Albert Leisner home was destroyed when the entire family was away.
The home, completed in March 1961, went to the ground, taking all furnishings and much other property of the parents and their five children.
The Winnebago Combined Fire Department was called to the scene when the fire was noticed, but the blaze was too far along to save the building.
Included in the loss also were a car, a panel truck, camping trailer and the hope chest of Miss Darlene Leisner, who was at work at Larsen Co-Op and was called home.
The remainder of the family was away, either at work or at the Winnebago County Fair in Oshkosh.
The cause has not been determined, say Walter Harper, fire chief, and Anton Klemp, fire captain, with machinery at $2,600. Insurance for $10,000 was carried, according to county police.

The Leisner home was at Lashley Point Road and Highway 110.

K-C Making Major Change Running Employees Club

NEENAH — Kimberly Clark Corp. is making major changes in the company's traditional Quarter Century club gatherings to give greater recognition to long-service employees.
Each year since 1947, all employees with 25 or more years of service, and their guests, have been honored at dinner parties at the new 25-year members club, given pins and $100 savings bonds.
Beginning this fall, the Quarter Century parties will continue to include induction of new 25-year men and women but also will honor the 30, 35, 40, 45, and 50-year employees. Under this revised plan pins, imprinted to show five year intervals of service, and savings bonds, ranging from $25 to, including $100 will now be presented to the long-service employees. In addition to the pin and bond, the 50-year employee will receive a gold watch.
Under this plan, too, only the 30, 35, 40, 45, and 50 year employees will attend the recognition dinner with the new Quarter Century people. Each will be permitted to bring a guest. Reason for the change in club attendance is that increasing numbers of long-service employees have made it difficult to find places in the various plant communities to accommodate the long-service men and women and their guests. There are 1,600 United States employees who now have 25 or more years of service within Kimberly-Clark.

Vocalist Leaves New York Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Jane Morgan left Roosevelt Hospital Wednesday and blamed her collapse Monday on working all that day without food during a recording session.
She said she was planning to go to bed early to leave the next morning for an engagement in Syracuse, N.Y., when "all of a sudden I must have blacked out."

Televised Animal Surgery 'Laying 'Em in the Aisles'

TORONTO (AP)—Live telecasts of surgery on small animals are laying them in the aisles at the annual Canadian National Exhibition here.
Spectators are fainting at the rate of three an operation. More than 60 visitors have been carried or helped out, and a few have required hospital treatment.
The televised operations, performed twice daily on small animals needing treatment, are the chief attraction of a $1 million "telescope" exhibit put on this year for the first time by Canada's 2,000 veterinarians.

Red Cross In Menasha 45 Years Old

Plan Celebration At Annual Meeting Set for Thursday

MENASHA — Celebrating 45 years of community service, the Menasha Chapter, American Red Cross, will hold its annual meeting, preceded by a 6:30 p.m. dinner, Thursday, Sept. 20, at the Menasha Hotel.

Records show that on April 13, 1917, the Economics Club appointed a committee to investigate the organization of a Red Cross chapter in Menasha. The committee was composed of Mrs. F. D. Lake, Mrs. L. W. Whitmore, Mrs. F. E. Grove, Mrs. Mollie Long and Mrs. E. W. Griswold.

On April 18 the committee met, reported great enthusiasm had been shown and that a charter had been granted and received. Signatures of 92 interested people had been obtained. By the next day, executive and membership committees were appointed by Ben Plowright, the first chapter chairman.

Mrs. F. D. Lake was first vice chairman; Mrs. A. N. Strange, second vice chairman; Mrs. Charles Gear, third vice chairman; Mrs. E. W. Griswold, secretary; and H. A. Fisher, treasurer. The first deposit of monies was made on April 26 and by May 29 the total membership was 327 people and $372 had been raised.

Drunkometer Gets Test From Judge, Lawyer, Policeman

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Dist. Judge Harold W. Pope told the Canadian Bar Association Wednesday he and seven other members of the Saskatchewan bar got together with a police officer and a breath analyzer for a scientific drinking experiment.
The judge from Moose Jaw said they drank for an hour to see how much it took to make their breaths show .06 per cent alcohol on the machine—Canada's legal criterion for drunkenness.
At the end of the hour, said Pope, two of the eight lawyers breathed more than .05 per cent alcohol.
He urged his hearers to make similar experiments "to come to grips with this terrible social problem and stop the murder on the highways."

Four Youths in Jail After Admitting Thefts

Money, Jewelry, Camera, Beer Stolen; Boys Picked Up by Police in Illinois

Four youths, two 15-years-old, the youths were running away from home and two 16, have been taken into custody by Appleton police and have admitted four break-ins to home in Appleton during July.

The youths also admitted break-in into a home after a school dance last winter and stealing wine and beer. One of the youths also admitted he stole about $90 from a greenhouse where he worked part-time this summer.

The four are being held in Outagamie County jail and will appear before County Judge Raymond P. Dohr, the juvenile judge, sometime next week.

The youths have admitted breaking into the Dr. Stephan Konz home, 26 Bellare Court July 3 and taking cigarettes and a jewelry case filled with old jewelry pieces. The youths said the jewelry, consisting of old watch chains, school rings and other items, was thrown into the Fox River.

Billfold Taken
 A billfold containing $250 was taken from the home of Mrs. Laura Bauman, 901 N. Fair St. She reported the loss to police July 14.

A billfold with $15 was taken July 9 from the home of John Reeve, 212 N. Green Bay Road. The money was the only thing found missing.

A camera in the home of Mrs. Austin Ely Sr., 514 N. Sampson St., was taken also, but Mrs. Ely has not reported the loss to police. She has been on vacation in Arizona.

Police were tipped on the burglaries last week when two of the youths were arrested in Pontiac, Ill., by state police who said Appleton attorney Richard L. Hamilton. The office will be at 110 S. Oneida St.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max E. Hamilton, 1717 S. Connel St., with whom he resides. He did his undergraduate Hamilton is a June graduate of work at Northwestern University, the Harvard Law School. He was Evanston, Ill., receiving his B.A. admitted to practice before the degree in 1959.

AXYDLBAAXR
LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Esther Williams Diver

Jolly 'in a Bottle' Set

BY CAPPY DICK

A diver that will dance under water can be made from a little perfume bottle cork, a bobby pin, a bit of pink yarn and four short pieces of soda straw.

Placed in a bottle containing just enough water to cover the top of the cork head, the diver will be good for hours of fun.

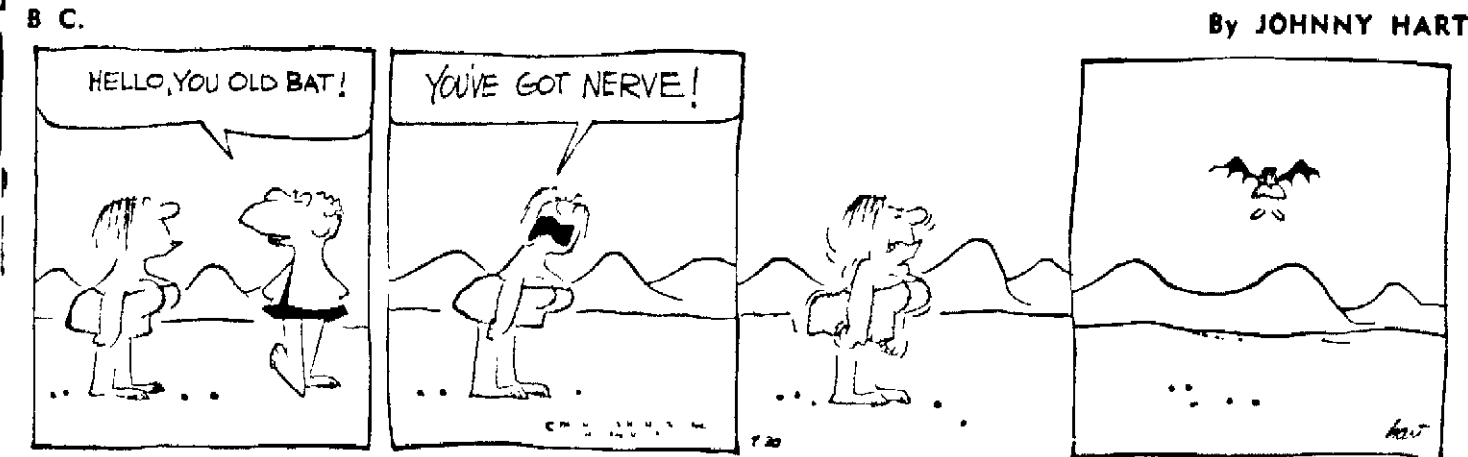

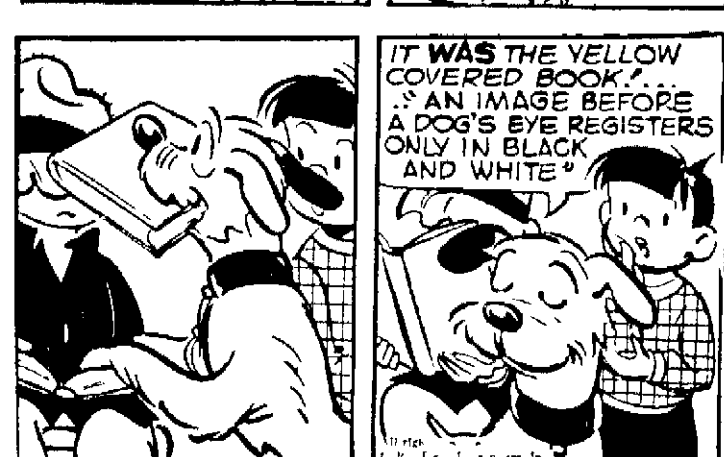

After rounding up the cork, bobby pin, yarn and soda straws as shown in Figures 1 and 2, first bend the prongs of the bobby pin apart, starting half way down to become the diver's legs. Push the top end of the cork which can be slit with a sharp knife.

Fit a short piece of pink yarn around the pin just below the diver's head. Figure 1. To make his arms, cut two short pieces of soda straw and thread one on each arm. This is easy to do if you turn the straw with your fingers while gently pressing the yarn into it as though threading a needle. Two longer pieces of straw should be slipped over the diver's legs as in Figure 2.

With black waterproof ink draw two eyes and a nose on the cork and with lipstick make a mouth.

Obtain a bottle that has a opening big enough to slip the diver into. Put enough water into the bottle to come up to the top of his head when his feet are on the bottom. Hold the bottle up before you as the box is doing in Figure 3 and shake it. The diver will move around fantastically for all the world like a skin diving dancer.

Librarians Get Fringe Benefit

The Appleton Public Library board of trustees Tuesday decided to enroll eligible library employees in the city's group life insurance program.

Cost of the premium for the $2,000 policy is 76 cents per employee per month. The library would match the cost of each policy. Full-time employees and those who work at least 30 hours a week are eligible to join.

Chief Librarian Gordon H. Bebeau said eight persons are eligible at present. He also said adding the group insurance program as part of the library's fringe benefits would give the library another attraction when trying to hire professional librarians.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

TRY TO OVERCOME ALL YOUR FEARS!

GOOD ☐ BAD ☐

Bad Fears have important values. In the first place, there are some things that we should be afraid of and fear helps to protect us from them. In the second place, fear often helps us do certain jobs better. In studies of men in the air force, for example, more than one third felt that considerable fear helped them to do better, and over half reported that a mild fear had a good effect. Fear causes the heart to beat faster and helps to tone up the whole body. Don't sell it short. If you still require proof of the answer, read the advice offered in the common sense booklet, "Conquest of Fear." It's yours for 10 cents and a stamped return envelope sent to: Let's Explore Your Mind, c/o this newspaper.

Should Sneaky People Be Condemned?

Yes. No.

Yes, but they should also be understood. A strong, able man who can get what he wants merely by taking it away from others may be contemptuous of the sneaky. But if he is a ruthless bully, he may be quite as bad. Each person tries to get what he wants in ways that are possible for him. We ought all to be honest and fair, no matter what our possibilities may be. But we should take great care in avoiding the error of assuming that our ways are necessarily better than those of others.

Brain Twisters

BY DON DOUGLAS

One Plus One

One word plus another word equals a third word. Add the letters of one word to the letters of a second word, rearrange all the letters and form an entirely new third word. For example, SEAR plus CEDE will combine and arrange into the one word CREASE. See what you can do with the following:

1. SHARPER plus PINT
2. RAVE plus DONE
3. LORD plus PENS
4. GREFT plus DENT
5. RAVE plus LINT
6. WIN plus REAL
7. TIME plus RAN
8. STAR plus MINT
9. CODE plus NEAT
10. EFFECT plus BARE
11. GILD plus TIME
12. HAREMS plus NICE.

Answers:

1. Partnership
2. Endeavor
3. Splendor
4. Detergent
5. Interval
6. Renewal
7. Mineral
8. Transit
